TWISTERS LASH SOUTHWEST U. S.

Ike Angered by Story He'll Quit; Brands It 'Rot'

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower today denounced as rot reports that he is preparing to step out of office and turn the reins of government over to Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Mr. Eisenhower was asked at a crowded news conference about reports that he was preparing to quit the presidency when world conditions permit.

He replied that there is no reason for anyone to doubt his basic integrity and honesty, and that he fully intends to serve out his elected term of office.

Other highlights of the news conference:

—He expressed hope that a tax reduction would be possible before he leaves office in 1961. But he declined to estimate whether such a reduction would be possible next year.

—He said that from the American standpoint the Communists are not keeping the Korean armistice in accordance with its original terms.

Denies Buildups

He denied a report that Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, had recommended a United Nations buildup in South Korea with the addition of jet aircraft.

—He said it is possible to achieve some savings in foreign aid. But he said the administration still regards the $4.4 billion foreign aid request in the budget as the best estimate of a minimum program if the United States is to achieve its objectives in the free world.

—He said in response to a question that it would be possible to cut federal personnel a great deal without the operation of the government suffering unduly. But he said he has no specific plan.

—He denied flatly that he had given Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China assurances that this country would, if necessary, come to the defense of Quemoy and Matsu islands off the coast of Red China. The President said he had never given any assurances that went beyond the American law and had not given Chiang any private assurances. A biography of Secretary John Foster Dulles by John R. Beal said Mr Eisenhower had given Chiang such assurances in a letter.

—The Chief Executive, as a result of publicity on his fast automobile ride to Gettysburg, Pa. last Friday, has issued orders to his White House drivers never again to exceed the speed limit.

—Despite some feelings in Congress to the contrary, the President did not regard the school construction bill as dead for this session of Congress.

Boosts Red Cross

—He asked the help of the nation's newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations in behalf of the current Red Cross drive for funds which, he said, is lagging badly.

Mr. Eisenhower obviously was nettled by recent, scattered rumors that he was considering resigning when world conditions per-

It's Here, Folks— Bluebarb Jam!

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Agriculture Department pridefully unveiled a new taste sensation today — bluebarb jam.

This, according to agriculture's food researchers, is a happy marriage of rhubarb and blueberry.

Seems blueberries alone are too bland for "really flavorful preserves" and too expensive for low-priced spreads, while rhubarb jam is cheap but too tart for average tastes, the researchers reported.

Eisenhower Bans Speeding By His Driver

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today he has issued orders to his Secret Service drivers never to exceed the speed limit in the future

The President told his news conference he had no idea that his car was speeding on his drive from Washington to Gettysburg, Pa., last Friday.

Police of Montgomery County, Md., flagged three carloads of reporters who were following the presidential car, but did not slow down the Chief Executive himself. The reporters said they and the President were doing 70 to 75 miles an hour when the press cars were slowed down in a zone where the legal speed limit is 55 miles.

Montgomery County police said later they did not observe any "improper acts" by the presidential limousine.

Mr. Eisenhower discussed the incident good humoredly in reply to a question at the start of today's news conference.

Speaking in an easy manner with a slight smile, the President said that for years he has used the back seat of his car as a conference room while taking trips. He said he was doing just that last week and had no idea of the speed the car was going. Riding with him was Dr. Walter Tkach, the assistant White House physician.

Worker Is Hurt In Fall at Mill; Condition 'Fair'

Charles Yakim, 40, of R. D. 1, Fayette City, a pipefitter, was injured in a fall while at work at the Allenport plant of Pittsburgh Steel Co. this morning about 3 o'clock.

He suffered a head injury. He received initial treatment at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital and then was transferred to Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh. The hospital reported he is in "fair" condition.

Yakim was repairing an oil line in the tandem department in the sheet mill when he tumbled from a 20-foot platform. He was working alone at the time.

Cause of the accident has not been determined.

Leaves $726 in Motel Pillow

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Mrs James Colwell of the Bronx, N.Y. had a lapse of memory which had police sorting through a truckload of soiled laundry at a motel Tuesday. Officers recovered $726 which Mrs. Colwell hid in a pillowcase when she stopped at the motel and forgot until she reached Chattanooga, Tenn.

Experts to Prepare Plan Here

The Monessen Redevelopment Authority last night contracted with Community Planning Services, Inc., of Pittsburgh, to prepare a survey and planning application for submission to the Federal Housing and Home Financing Agency in connection with a proposed redevelopment project for the city.

The Authority is seeking a federal grant of $1,400,000 for the proposed redevelopment of a 27-acre site in the extreme northeastern section of the city.

The Authority last week was assured of a $350,000 grant from the state for the project.

The project will cost an estimated $2,100,000. In addition to federal and state funds, the city will supply $350,000.

Start Immediately

Community Services will begin work on the application immediately, A. Edward Wilen, Authority chairman, said today. The contract calls for the application to be ready for submission in three months. The Pittsburgh firm will be paid $1,950 for its services.

Community Services is the same consulting firm now working with the Monessen Planning Commission to prepare the city's master plan.

At last night's meeting, City Council made available a $2,500 appropriation to be used by the Authority for survey and planning expenses. Council members present were Mayor Hugo J. Parente, David Victoria, John Molnar and John Kotch, Jr.

The 27-acre site the Authority plans to develop is adjacent to the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad and the eastern city line.

The area is predominantly residential with a mixture of commercial and industrial establishments. Most of the existing structures are sub-standard and will be removed during the course of the redevelopment.

Area Blighted

There are about 78 residential dwellings containing 115 families, 35 commercial and 15 industrial structures in the area, considered one of the city's most blighted. Over 12 per cent of the dwellings are without running water.

The Authority is also working on

Two Accidents On Streets Here

No heavy damage resulted from two accidents on Monessen streets yesterday, police reported today.

A car belonging to James Lee Cummings, of 1172 Schoonmaker avenue, was double-parked on Schoonmaker avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets when it was struck from behind by a vehicle driven by John Popovich, of 1007 Knox avenue.

A car operated by Hayward Wilson, of Pricedale, was involved in a collision at 12th street and Schoonmaker with a car driven by William J. Ferencz, of 411 First street. The Wilson machine backed into the front of the Ferencz car.

HE BEAT THE McCARTHY RAP — Maj. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, accused by Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R), Wisconsin, of having committed perjury before his committee in 1954, examines his new two-star flag after the Senate voted an okay on his promotion over McCarthy's objections. Zwicker will command the U. S. 24th Division in Korea.

Speidel Takes NATO Post as French Protest

PARIS (UP)—German Gen. Hans Speidel, 52, assistant commander of the Nazi occupation of Paris during World War II, took over command of Allied ground forces in Central Europe today.

France choked back bitter memories as a French national police band played "Here Comes The General" and "Deutschland Uber Alles" when Speidel arrived for installation ceremonies.

Left-wing veterans groups, mostly former resistance fighters and concentration camp inmates, have demonstrated frequently against Speidel. They painted "Speidel home" slogans on walls and marched through the streets in the striped uniforms of the concentration camps.

Two left-wing Paris newspapers, Communist L'Humanite and the fellow - traveling Liberation, attacked him again today and said his appointment was an insult to those who died before Nazi firing squads.

Speidel is, perhaps, the first German to head an Allied field command since Blucher helped the Duke of Wellington beat Napoleon at Waterloo in 1815.

Speidel's boss and his deputy in his new North Atlantic Treaty Organization command are Frenchmen.

Begin Canvass For Red Cross

A two-day house-to-house canvass to solicit contributions for the 1957 fund campaign of the Monessen-Belle Vernon Red Cross Chapter will begin in Monessen at 5 o'clock this afternoon, Anthony Ortolona, general chairman, announced.

The drive today and tomorrow will be conducted by the Monessen Jaycees, led by Pat Dodaro, president.

Last year the Jaycees collected $749.

Editors Attend Annual Seminar

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UP)—About 50 Pennsylvania newsmen took part today in the annual Editor's Seminar at the Pennsylvania State University.

The subject of the two-day seminar was the newspaper's role in community promotion and development.

Victor C. Diehm, president and general manager of Hazleton Broadcasting Company, will address the seminar banquet.

The seminar is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors and the university.

Seek to Settle Somerset Bus Firm Walkout

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Federal mediator George Woomer said today he will meet jointly with union and management here at 10 a.m. Thursday in a fresh try to settle a 107-day strike against the Somerset Bus Co.

Seventeen drivers and maintenance men, members of Local 218 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, went on strike last Dec. 19, halting company service from Somerset to Pittsburgh and Johnstown, Pa., and Cumberland, Md.

A session scheduled for Harrisburg Tuesday was cancelled when Woomer was unable to attend.

Company attorney Harry B. Pollack said the firm is "willing and ready" to resume negotiations on a replacement for the old contract which expired last Nov. 1.

27 Horses Die As Stable Burns At Fairground

TOLEDO, O. (UP)—A total of 27 thoroughbreds were killed today in a fire of undetermined origin that destroyed a barn and stable at the Ft. Miami Fairgrounds here early today.

Fire officials said if the wind had been from the south an entire row of barns might have been destroyed before the blaze was brought under control.

Twenty-six of the horses perished in the fire. The other, seriously injured by the flames, was shot, officials said.

The barn contained an estimated 50 horses. Officials said those that managed to escape scattered in all directions. Several were found as far away as four miles from here.

Provide Funds for Turnpike Probe

HARRISBURG (UP)—The General Assembly has approved a 10 thousand dollar appropriation to finance last year's legislative investigation of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

The House Tuesday approved 190-6 a Senate bill to pay for the investigation and sent it to Gov. George M. Leader. The inquiry, formed by the 1955 session, surveyed a proposed increase of passenger car tolls on the turnpike which were not put into effect.

Americans Snub 'Liberation' Party

WASHINGTON (UP)—U S officials plan to give Communist Hungary's "liberation" party a first class diplomatic snub Thursday night. Invitations to the 12th anniversary party of the "liberation of Hungary" by Soviet troops are cluttering State Department waste baskets. Officials who attended reluctantly in past years aren't even sending "regrets" this year.

Liberal Democrat Wins Easy Texas Victory

DALLAS, Texas (UP)—The Democrats retained control of the U.S Senate today on the hard-fought victory of liberal Ralph Yarborough in a Texas special election.

Yarborough torpedoed his Democratic opposition and Republican hopes in his first success in five tries for high office. He previously had lost three bids for the governorship and one for state attorney general.

His election meant that the Democrats will continue to hold a 4-47 edge in the U.S. Senate. The Republican Party went all-out in an effort to get a GOP candidate elected and win a 48-48 tie in the Senate.

With Vice President Richard M. Nixon's tie-breaking vote, this would have given the Republicans control of the Senate. But Thad Hutcheson of Houston, upon whom the Republicans had pinned their hopes, never was in the running.

All told, there were 20 men in the race—18 Democrats and two Republicans. The Republicans, concentrating on Hutcheson, had hoped that the Democratic majority would split its vote so widely that a Republican minority would be enough to elect Hutcheson.

Yarborough will fill the 21 months remaining on the term of Price Daniel, who resigned from

At Least 16 Are Killed; 800 Hurt; Hundreds of Dwellings Are Crushed

Dallas Area Is Hardest Hit; Oklahoma Towns in Path

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Killer tornadoes whirled slowly through north Texas and southern Oklahoma late Tuesday, crushing hundreds of homes, killing at least 16 persons and injuring upwards of 800 others.

Ten persons were killed in Dallas — the hardest hit area — and more than 700 others were injured. An 11th person was killed in Texas 100 miles northeast of Dallas and black tornado funnels swept on into Oklahoma.

Five were killed in Oklahoma and 14 others were injured there, bringing the two-state death toll to 16. An estimated 800 homes were destroyed in Dallas alone.

At least 170 persons, many of them in critical condition, were injured enough to require hospital treatment in Dallas. The State Department of Public Safety estimated that 600 others were hurt, but not enough to go to hospitals. Five of the victims in Dallas were children, ranging from five years to one month old. The latest death victim was 2-year-old Milton Hillard who died today at Parkland Hospital.

Fathers Go Berserk

Fathers returning from work went berserk when they found their homes wrecked and families gone and police had to hold them until they calmed down.

A heavy thunderstorm hit Dallas again early today and a downpour of rain moving through with a squall line ruined what furniture was left by the tornado in the demolished homes.

"My wife and I saw it coming," Robert Thurman, 31, bringing his wife in to a hospital for treatment, said. "We had our children he down on the floor. We just had time to do this when we looked out to see it coming on us.

"It looked like the air was filled with blue smoke and flying tin. There was a big roar and our house fell in on us.

"I heard my wife and children crying and I dug them out."

T. M. Davisson, 41, and J. C. Newton were caught squarely in the path of the tornado and dived into a 1,000 gallon tank lying empty on the ground. The tornado didn't blow the heavy tank away.

Like 'Freight Trains'

"It sounded like a thousand freight trains," Davisson said. "I've never spent such a nightmare. We would have been cut to pieces if it hadn't been for that tank."

The tornado broke gas pipes and electric lines. Many persons stayed in partly wrecked homes all night despite threatening thunderstorms, because they feared looters.

Tuesday night, hours after the Dallas tornado, a twister to the west near Fort Worth licked up a house carried it 70 yards and dashed it against a school. The house was smashed and the school badly damaged.

The tornado that hit Dallas was part of a brood of tornadoes that struck at least eight Texas counties and southeastern Oklahoma.

Truman Expects Grandchild to Be Born in N. Y.

NEW YORK (UP)— Former President Harry S. Truman said today he expects his first grandchild will be born in New York and he expects to be here to greet it.

Mr. Truman said plans for the child's birth are the concern of his daughter, Mrs. Clifton Daniel, and "her doctor here."

"Personally, I'd like to have her home," he said.

The former president told newsmen during an early morning walk that he and Mrs. Truman will probably visit here several times before the child's birth, expected late in June. They are leaving for home in Independence, Mo., today after a visit of five days.

Mr. Truman expressed pleasure at the election of Democrat Ralph Yarborough to the Senate from Texas Tuesday and said he was satisfied also with results of elections in Michigan on Monday.

'Mass Murder' On Highway Hit At Conference

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The head of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council says the "mass murder" on the nation's highways is comparable to the "Roman arena, Hitler's gas chambers and Communist slave labor camps."

E. J. Hanley, council president, told the opening session the death toll from all types of accidents last year was 5,000 and the auto was the biggest killer.

Approximately 40,000 persons were killed on the nation's highways in 1956, he said.

Hanley said the number of deaths from industrial accidents, 14,300, was lower than that in other fields.

"In the early history of industry some people referred to them as slaughter mills," he said. "This doesn't exist today."

Democrats Top GOP 4 to 1 In Registration

Democrats in Westmoreland County had a 4 to 1 majority in new registrations recorded by April 1 when the books were closed etaoinuldrhso cmfwypj qbgbv for the May 21 primary, according to figures released today by Robert P. DeLotto, chief registrar.

A total of 4,091 new Democrats registered as compared to 1,169 Republicans. DeLotto said 529 Republicans changed to Democrat and 156 Democrats became Republicans.

The total count of persons eligible to vote in the primary will be released soon, the registrar stated.

Homestead Man On Trial for Theft, Assault

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Willie Bird, 28, Homestead steelworker, went on trial in Criminal Court Tuesday on charges of robbery, aggravated assault and battery and indecent assault.

Two of four women Bird is accused of attacking testified before the jury of seven women and five men.

Bernadette Kruspir, 21, of Pittsburgh, said she was attacked by Bird as she walked from her mother's home near Twelfth and Amity Streets in Homestead last Oct. 29. She said she suffered fractures of the skull and nose and face and other injuries and spent 24 days in Homestead Hospital.

Jane McClain, 20, Homestead, said she was attacked by Bird in the hallway of her home Nov. 14. She said he beat her and knocked her down. She was treated at Homestead Hospital for scratches and bruises.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Samuel Strauss told the court "these are vicious crimes."

Visiting Judge Lloyd S. Weaver of Clarion County is presiding at the trial.

Funds Alloted For Flood Control

HARRISBURG (UP) — The state Civil Defense Council has approved expenditures of $4,750,000 for five major flood control projects in Pennsylvania.

The projects and the estimated cost of each are:

Stroudsburg, Monroe County, $2,775,000; Scranton, $1,464,000; Turtle Creek Valley, Allegheny County, $350,000; Bucks County project on Little Neshaminy Creek $96,000 and Warren, Warren County, $79,000.

The money for the flood control projects will come from funds provided by the extra penny tax placed on cigarettes to help defray some of the rehabilitation costs incurred by the floods of August, 1955.

Local communities will be required to provide necessary rights of way and to assume future maintenance costs.

Blizzard Hits West; Denver Has 16 Inches

By UNITED PRESS

A massive spring blizzard snarled transportation in sections of the West today and spawned a flurry of deadly tornadoes in Texas and Oklahoma.

A single tornado lashed Dallas for more than 30 minutes Tuesday afternoon, churning up a long path of death and destruction.

More than a dozen twisters raked the two-state area, also causing death and injury in Durant, Okla., and near Ardmore and Stratford, Okla.

To the north, a second giant blizzard in two weeks dumped more than 16 inches of snow at Denver and piled up to an unofficial depth of 48 inches in the Colorado Mountains.

A United Press count in the twin storms showed at least 15 killed in tornadoes and two in the blizzard for a total of 17 weather-caused fatalities. Some 190 persons were injured in the twisters.

In addition, three persons were reported missing in the eastern Colorado snowstorm, including a pregnant woman enroute to a hospital.

The snowstorm blanketed sections of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, South Dakota and Montana.

Hardest hit were Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico where more than two feet of snow stalled transportation, isolated communities and disrupted power and communications.

Winds up to 40 miles per hour whipped the snow into huge drifts and sent the storm racing toward the Kansas and Nebraska plains today.

All major western Colorado highways were closed. Air flights were cancelled in Denver, trains and buses were behind schedule.

Civil Rights Bill Near Floor of House

But Fast Action Is Doubted

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House today cleared the way for a drive to get a vote on the Civil Rights Bill.

But the bill's supporters were pessimistic about getting fast action.

Filing of formal reports for and against the administration program cleared the way for a drive to get it through the House Rules Committee and onto the House floor.

But supporters feared that the Rules Committee headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va) would not clear the bill before late May or early June. That could easily kill any chance of getting Senate action this year.

Foes of the program in the Senate would argue that it was then too late to begin debate — and in all probability cause a filibuster that would block passage of other legislation.

Other congressional news:

Budget: The House economy fight continued over the administration's $2,900,000,000 budget for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments. The House called up an amendment to cut off funds for the government's new sewage disposal plant program.

Newsmen: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee sought to decide whether to invite representatives of the three major U.S. news services to testify on the State Department's ban against newsmen visiting Red China. Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) suggested representatives of United Press, Associated Press and International News Service be invited to testify.

Powell: Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. disclosed he is soliciting House members for money to help rebuild Montgomery, Ala., churches bombed during racial strife. The Negro New York Democrat is telling House members their contributions will be kept secret.

Judges: The House Judiciary Committee approved a bill that would require chief judges of federal district and circuit courts at the age of 75 to turn over their top posts to younger judges. However, they would remain judges.

Lawyers: Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) introduced a bill that would prohibit alleged Communist lawyers from appearing before Congress or federal agencies unless they swore the charge was false. He said more than two dozen lawyers identified as Communists have appeared before his House Committee on Un-American Activities, in recent years.

AMBIDEXTROUS COOK AT WORK — Carl Johnson, of Johnson's Restaurant, Monessen, is an expert either hand when it comes to flipping eggs. Carl, who claims he "flips 'em flops 'em, but never drops 'em," has cooked over a half-million eggs during his 43 years as a short-order cook at his brother Pierce's restaurant. Carl said he draws about 200 cups of coffee per day, meaning he has served nearly 5,000,000 cups of coffee since 1914.

Teamster Official Aids Probe

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee said today that Teamsters Secretary-Treasurer John F. English has "cooperated fully" in its investigation of Teamsters President Dave Beck.

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said English "cooperated with the committee whenever we have called upon him" for union records.

Meanwhile, a spokesman said the rackets committee's next public hearing probably will start April 16 and deal with violence allegedly used by the Teamsters to organize employes in Scranton, Pa.

The spokesman said the alleged violence included the dynamiting of a private home to force employers to sign union contracts. He said it also involved charges of collusion between the Teamsters and building trades unions.

Approved Project

In the Teamsters' turmoil, English last week opposed a Beck project to wage a nationwide publicity campaign with 1 million dollars from the union treasury. Beck announced the project as a "truth" campaign to counteract charges stemming from the rackets committee inestigation.

The Teamsters executive committee reported Tuesday it had approved a "public relations program" to fight "anti-labor legislation" without mentioning any sum of money. But sources outside the committee said it voted to spend $150,000 to $200,000.

The Teamsters high command made no mention of any break with Beck, who had refused on grounds of possible self-incrimination to answer Senate committee charges that he misused more than $322,000 of union funds.

Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment's protection 117 times before the committee, explaining that he expected to be indicted on income tax charges.

The Internal Revenue Service was reported to have referred results of a long investigation of Beck's finances to the justice department. The department, however, declined to comment.

Mayor, Fed up with Politics, Leaves Town

CHICAGO (UP) — A Georgia mayor who said he is fed up with "small town politics" has been located working on the assembly line in a Chicago factory.

Clarence Green 32, mayor of Dalton, Ga., said he just up and left for Chicago with his wife and two small children three weeks ago without saying a word to anyone.

"I just got sick and tired of small town politics," Green told United Press Tuesday night. "Being mayor was nothing but a lot of headaches."

The mayor blamed most of his troubles on "a few people who have been running the town of Dalton" and who refused to relinquish their power.

"The mayor was nothing but a puppet," Green complained. "The four city councilmen really ran the town. The mayor couldn't initiate new legislation and could only vote when the councilmen tied. He just sat there and did what he was told."

Green, who operated a restaurant in his native Dalton, found a job at $75 a week at the International Paper Co., here and moved his family into a small South Side apartment. His part-time job as mayor paid only $350 a year.

"I didn't tell anyone I was leaving," Green said. "I just packed up and went — I couldn't take it any more."

Tornado

Total casualties in both states were at least 15 dead and 190 injured.

Weather bureau tornado forecasters issued a severe thunderstorm and tornado alert for most of Oklahoma, extreme western Arkansas, northeastern Texas and north-central Texas until early today.

Million-plus Damage

Continued thunderstorms — the same type of weather that bred Tuesday's tornadoes — were forecast for part of that area through today, but forecasters declined to predict possible tornadoes that far in advance.

It took the tornado that hit Dallas more than 30 minutes to make its way with a vast roar from Red Bird Airport in Southwest Dallas to Northwest Dallas, where it broke up and vanished.

Thousands of persons watched the tornado's progress, some until it hit them. Some leaped terrified from their automobiles and took shelter; it almost hypnotized others who couldn't stop looking at it until it was upon them.

Assistant Police Chief J. E. Curry of Dallas estimated that 800 homes were destroyed or damaged and that damage totals at least $1,500,000. Rescue squads had gone through the wreckage of homes.

But attendants at Parkland (city-county) Hospital reported that 35 or 40 persons had gone through the lists of injured, looking for missing relatives. Police feared some may have been blown into a deep ditch filled with water.

Women Finish Argument with Meat Cleaver

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Two elderly women, arguing for hours over who did the better job of tending the furnace, finally settled the issue this morning with a meat cleaver. Shaler Twp. police reported today.

Police said Mrs. Margaret Zgainer, 62, attacked her tenant, Mrs. Rose Sabolich, 69, with a meat cleaver. Mrs. Sabolich was found at 2 a.m. at Etna, a half mile from home, and was hospitalized with severe cuts of the head, face and arms.

"I wasn't trying to kill her, just cut her up a little," Shaler police said Mrs. Zgainer told them when they charged her with assault.

Representing Community Services were Robert R. Way, vice-president, and David C. Fahringer, secretary-treasurer.

Beck Ignores Bid To Tell His Side

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Columbus Citizen and the Cleveland Press reported today Teamster President David Beck has not replied to an invitation to tell his side of the story on the recent Senate probe in the two newspapers.

The two newspapers offered the invitation last Friday after Beck said he would spend a million dollars to tell his side of the story on the Senate inquiry. Both Scripps - Howard newspapers offered free space to Beck.

Favors Cuts in Budget

WASHINGTON (UP)—Treasury Undersecretary W. Randolph Burgess said today that he believes President Eisenhower's record peacetime spending budget of 71.8 billion dollars should be cut by 2 billion to 3 billion dollars.

He made the statement under questioning at a Senate Finance Committee hearing on legislation to increase the interest rates on federal savings bonds.

"My personal opinion is that it (the fiscal 1958 budget) could be cut 2 billion to 3 billion dollars and that would be a sound thing to do," Burgess said.

If this is done, and the fiscal 1959 budget is held to about 69 billion or 70 billion also, he said, "we can cut taxes next year." He said a budget surplus of 2 to 3 billion dollars would justify a tax cut.

Five-day Forecast

Former Donora Hotel Proprietor Is Dead

A pioneer resident of Donora, Frank A. Coatsworth, died yesterday at 10 a. m. after a lingering illness at the home of his son, Robert, 619 Thompson avenue. He was 79 years old.

Born in California, Pa., April 18, 1878, Mr. Coatsworth went to Donora in 1907, and had owned and operated the old Lawrence Hotel there for many years. He had been retired for several years. He was a member of the First Methodist Church of Donora.

His wife, Mrs. Ola Rice Coatsworth, survives, as well as a son, Robert D., of Donora; a daughter, Mrs. Helen C. Ewing, of Oceala, Fla.; a brother, Robert A., of Salt Lake City, Utah; a sister, Mrs. Frank Furman, of Morgantown, and one grandchild.

Friends are being received at the Lawson Funeral Home in Donora. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m., with interment in Monongahela Cemetery.

MRS. HARRIET BAKER

Mrs. Harriet Baker, of 631 Reed avenue, Monessen, died this morning at 7:35 in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital.

A resident of Monessen for 55 years, Mrs. Baker was a member of the First Baptist Church and of the Order of Eastern Star in Monessen.

Surviving are her husband, Donald C. Baker; a son, Harold A., of Monessen Highway and two sisters, Mrs. J. N. Husher, of Belle vernon, R. D., and Mrs. C. S. Brayton, of Toronto, O.

Friends will be received at the H. G. Harper Funeral Home, 649 McKee avenue, after 1 p. m. tomorrow. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

WILBUR D. MILLS

Wilbur D. Mills, 71, of 318½ North Jefferson street, Connellsville, died Monday at 6 p. m. in Connellsville State Hospital.

Mr. Mills was a former resident of Star Junction.

mit and turning over his duties to Nixon.

Asked about these reports, the President said with deep feeling that they are the worst rot he has heard since he has been in office.

He said that he knows of no reason why anyone should doubt his basic integrity and honesty.

Mr. Eisenhower said that when his physicians told him last year that he was able to run for re-election and serve another term in the White House, he approached the public honestly in the belief that he could fulfill his duties for a full term.

TV Blacked Out

Colorado Springs was isolated Tuesday night by a 15-inch snowfall, and a power failure halted electricity to hundreds of homes.

A one-story building at Pueblo was evacuated when the weight of soggy snow threatened to cave in the roof. More than half the city was without power for a time.

At Denver, falling tree limbs knocked down telephone lines to about 1,700 subscribers. All television stations were blacked out during the night by a power failure. City traffic was reduced to a trickle.

Fire destroyed a pump house at Lyman, Wyo, during the storm, and residents were warned to boil their drinking water.

However, the storm was welcomed by drought-stricken western ranchers. Colorado Gov. Steve McNichols termed the snow "a very good thing" to replenish the state's moisture supply.

Forecasters said 3 to 6 inches more of snow is expected in New Mexico today and up to 5 more inches is expected to hit Denver and other sections of eastern Colorado.

Another Boost In Paper Price Is Predicted

NEW YORK (UP)—Sir Eric Bowater, chairman of the board largest producer of newsprint, of Bowater Paper Corp., world's said today the recent $4 a ton price increase was only half enough, and another increase is certain.

"The price didn't go up enough," he said. "It should have been $8 per ton. There will be another increase, although it won't come tomorrow. But it will have to come eventually."

His company produces 1,300,000 tons of newsprint annually, and took first place in world production in 1956 when it put a new machine into operation in one of its American plants.

Bowater said newsprint supply and demand would be in balance next year.

Israel 'Security Force' Moves to Jordan Border

By UNITED PRESS

Israeli officials announced that "large security forces" moved almost to the Jordan border today in pursuit of Fedayeen (Arab commandoes) who ambushed an Israeli police patrol.

Israel announced several new outbreaks of Fedayeen terrorism and Col. Nehemiah Brosh, the Israeli military spokesman, reported a 20-minute border clash between Syrian and Israeli troops Tuesday night.

In other incidents raising tension in Israel, Jordanians stoned an Israeli patrol in Jerusalem itself from the walls of the old Jordan-held city and an Arab farmer was killed by a mine near Taibeh village Tuesday on the Israeli-Jordan border.

Two Wounded Seriously

Military sources said the Israeli police patrol prevented heavy losses through swift action but that two men were wounded seriously in the attack.

Jordan was reported in political turmoil, but reports from there said King Hussein was winning his struggle with Premier Suleiman Nabulsi over Hussein's efforts to keep Jordan from falling into the Communist camp.

Dispatches from Jordan's capital of Amman said a powerful segment of the cabinet had joined with the king who would like to strengthen Jordan's ties with the West and who approves the Eisenhower Doctrine for the Mideast.

Both Syria and Jordan have been reported torn for weeks in a struggle for power between pro-Communist and anti-Communist groups. The fight in Syria apparently still was unresolved: Hussein appeared to be gaining strength in Jordan.

Nabulsi Still Premier

There have been recurrent rumors Nabulsi had resigned, but he was still premier early today. An Amman dispatch said he may submit a formal resignation later. He is pro-Communist, dislikes the Eisenhower Doctrine and Baghdad Pact and seeks close ties with Syria and Egypt.

Political unrest also was reported in Iran, an ally of the United States and a member of the Baghdad Pact. A Tehran dispatch said Premier Hussein Ala called his cabinet to a final meeting this afternoon and would announce his resignation in a broadcast this afternoon.

Ala is to be succeeded by court minister Manouchehr Eghbal, a man the Shah considers to be more dynamic than Ala and capable of speeding up Iran's economic development.

Slayings Precipitate Crisis

The crisis had been brewing for weeks. It was precipitated by the slaying of three Americans by desert bandits a week ago Sunday.

The U.S. State Department meanwhile was reported to have received from Cairo Egypt's reply to an American request for changes in the Nasser plan for operating the Suez Canal.

Western diplomats in Cairo said they doubted President Gamal Abdel Nasser would make any substantial changes in his plan for operating the canal despite the American suggestions.

Israel has served notice it intends to send a test ship through the canal soon, and a Jerusalem dispatch said statements by Premier David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Golda Meir meant the time might be at hand.

ISRAELI COAST DANGER SPOT — This view of the Israeli port of Elath at head of the Gulf of Aqaba gives you a look at Jordan in the distance. Smoke rising in Jordan is from demolitions on British ammuniton dumps as a result of abrogaton of the British-Jordanian treaty. Mountains are in Saudi Arabia. Saudi Arabia and Egypt claim the gulf is their territorial water, and imply it will be closed to Israeli shipping. Thus Elath is an explosive point.

Kiwanis Hears Illustrated Talk About Mexico

A colored movie and description of a tour through Mexico and Central America was presented by Dr. Francis Smith, of Belle Vernon, as the program feature of last night's dinner meeting of the Kiwanis Club held in the Slovak Home.

President Charles Penwick was in charge, and group singing was led by Harold Baker.

Reports were given concerning the progress of the soap sale now being conducted for the purpose of raising funds for aid to underprivileged children

Lt. Gov. W. R. H. Patterson announced that plans are complete for the testimonial dinner for which the local club will be host on April 30. It will honor Pennsylvania District Governor Sutter. About 400 visiting Kiwanians are expected to attend.

A directors meeting followed the session with Penwick, Stephen Spontak, Rudy Benedetti, Frank Costa, William Crawford, Clarence Lhota, Jack Sonafelt and Leonard Falbo attending.

High Cost of Living Hits Every Family

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL

NEW YORK (UP)—Joe Smith and his wife have a common complaint these days — the high cost of living.

Inflationary pressures in the economy have pushed living costs to a new all-time high in the past six months, ending almost three years of virtual price stability.

It now costs more than it did a year ago to go to work, buy a home, feed and clothe the children and take the wife out for a dinner and show.

Rising prices in the postwar period have kept many American families on the familiar treadmill.

The Tax Foundation pointed out that the average taxpayer who earned $3,000 a year after taxes in 1946 now must bring home $4,286 just to be as well off as he was 11 years ago.

The $5,000 a year man now must make $7,087 after taxes just to stay even.

Dollar Power Decreases

Franz Pick, noted monetary expert, said rising costs have reduced the purchasing power of the U. S. dollar by 27 per cent in the postwar period alone and by almost 50 per cent since 1939.

Examples of the erosion of the dollar's buying power are numerous. The nickel subway ride now costs 15 cents and the nickel telephone call now costs a dime.

A government survey showed that it costs an average $1,500 a year to send an undergraduate student to a public college, compared with $747 in 1939. The cost of attending a private college now averages $2,000 a year, also double the pre-war total.

The present inflation danger in the economy, according to leading economists, does not stem from huge budgetary deficits, or overworking the government printing presses. Rather, it reflects the rising cost of doing business, wage boosts, high taxes, and the high level of government spending, they explained.

Vicious Circle

Dr. Marcus Nadler, consulting economist for the Hanover Bank, said "unless stopped in time, these forces lead to a vicious circle—higher wages, higher prices — a circle which is hard to break without causing serious economic dislocations including mass unemployment."

Economists emphasized that the nation is not faced with a boom-busting inflationary spiral.

However, they said that there are pressures within the economy, which if not checked and kept under control, could bring on such an economic catastrophe.

Nadler said "the forces of inflation are still relatively mild" and should run their course during the next few months. However he said they will "not be eliminated but merely remain dormant."

Sees Danger In 1960's

He said the big danger may arise in the early 1960's "when family formations will rise materially, and the demand for homes, public works, and all kinds of goods and services is sure to increase sharply."

Economists pointed out that the task before government, industry and labor is to adopt the necessary anti-inflationary forces now and not to wait until the problem is critical.

There are some counteracting forces at work within the economy. One is the keen competition in industry for the consumer's dollar. This prevents companies from passing increases in costs along to consumers in full.

Another is the nation's rapidly expanding productive capacity. When the supply of goods catches up with the demand, prices tend to ease.

East Sends More Steel To West

NEW YORK (UP)—More Eastern-produced steel is finding its way to the steel-hungry West Coast, Iron Age Magazine said today.

Western buyers are willing to pay the extra freight premium because they need the steel so badly, the authoritative trade publication said.

In its current issue, Iron Age also commented on the decline in the steel operating rate and reported it is the result of a change in product mix. Because demand has shifted mills are producing more heavier steel products. But the publication explained, less of the heavier steel is produced per hour of mill time, accounting for the decline.

Iron Age said the situation in plate and structural steels, two items in short supply, has eased somewhat although they are still market strong points.

It said it based this observation on the fact that brokers in the two commodities are becoming easier to deal with.

To Equal 1956

Iron Age said despite the current decline it still looks for overall shipments this year to be "on a par with those of 1956." It said current order backlogs support its position.

The publication reported that many steelmakers are looking for export tonnages to take up some of the slack this summer.

However, it pointed out their hopes may be miscast since most of the demand from abroad is for the same items which are short at home.

Iron Age also commented on the sheet steel situation—the product used mainly in autos and appliances.

"Most sheet mills have not noticed any improvement in sheet sales for April shipment — and there is some question on May," it said.

"But these same mills have booked heavy tonnages of light plate and other sheet products. So that sheet mill order books are not too far behind in total flat-rolled tonnage booked."

Russians Invite American Veterans

MOSCOW (UP)— A group of Soviet World War II veterans today invited American veterans to come to Moscow for the 12th anniversary of their meeting at the Elbe River in Hitler's Germany.

The invitation, published by the Communist Party organ Pravda, was addressed to the "American veterans of the meeting on the Elbe" headed by Joseph Polowsky of Chicago.

The anniversary falls on April 24. The letter recalled the first meeting in Moscow in 1955 and said it played a positive role in strengthening friendly relatons between the two nations.

the Senate to become governor of Texas.

The race was one between two Democrats—Yarborough and Congressman-at-Large Martin Dies.

Dies ran a close second as the hours ticked away, but when the Texas Election Bureau closed its doors for the night, Dies needed from 75 to 80 per cent of the remaining uncounted vote to catch Yarborough.

When the election bureau quit counting Tuesday night, Yarborough had 310,842 votes to 255,016 for Dies and 202,721 for Hutcheson. A total of 184 of 254 counties had been heard from with 78 complete.

The figure gave Yarborough a flat 37 per cent of the total vote. Dies' had a percentage mark of 30 35 and Hutcheson 24 13.

Robert Johnson, head of the election bureau which tabulates returns for newspapers, and radio and television stations, estimated that between 80,000 and 100,000 votes were still out.

Johnson said only "the deep forks of the creek" are to be heard from and the trend from that vote had been toward Yarborough.

New PUC Members To Be Sworn in

HARRISBURG (UP) — Public Utility Commissioners Stephen P. Stahlnecker and Joseph Sharfsin, both of Philadelphia, were slated to be sworn into office for additional 10 year terms today following their confirmations by the state Senate Tuesday.

Sharfsin was named to the 14 thousand dollar a year post by Gov. George M. Leader last May for an interim appointment which would have expired at the close of the present legislative session.

Stahlnecker has been a member of the commission since December 1952, when he was appointed by Gov. John S. Fine to serve out the unexpired term of the late B. Frank Morgal, Camp Hill. The partial term expired April 1.

Burns to Death In Automobile

WASHINGTON, Pa. (UP)— Washington County Coroner L. C. Gray has issued a verdict of accidental death in the case of Robert A. Carlisle, 41, whose burned body was found in his parked automobile.

State police said Carlisle, of McDonald RD 3, had parked on the side of the road. The front seat was still smouldering when the body was found. Carlisle apparently was smoking and fell asleep, according to the coroner. The ignition was turned off.

Carlisle's mother said she last saw her son Monday afternoon when he drove off. She was not alarmed immediately when he failed to return home that evening because she believed he had an interview about a job.

The car was parked on the Southview-Primrose road about 12 miles north of here.

Neighborly Planning In Order Here

THE MEMBERS of Monessen's City Planning Commission and Rostraver Township's Board of Supervisors are to be commended for sitting down together, as they plan to do tomorrow, to discuss the mutual ambitions of the City and Township.

A master plan for the future development of Monessen makes no sense if it begins and ends at the legal boundaries of the city. Nor can the development of Rostraver Township be planned intelligently without taking into consideration the growth of its largest urban neighbor.

Monessen and Rostraver have already had one experience with an annexation which was not adequately planned on either side of the boundary line, and as a result the courts are having to settle a dispute concerning the educational phase of the transfer. Such collisions ought to be avoided in the future, and they can be avoided through continuing and friendly consultation between neighbors.

The law actually authorizes the Planning Commission to draw its plans to embrace an area three miles beyond the city limits. And although this jurisdiction is for planning purposes only, it is the plain intent of the law that growing communities should look beyond their existing boundaries when thinking about their future needs.

* * *

IT HAS BEEN this paper's feeling for a long time that this whole district is ripe for some regional planning. Its communities are already cooperating in an industrial development movement. In recent years there has been a major school jointure, forming the Bellmarette district, and other jointures are under discussion in the neighborhoods of which West Newton and Charleroi are the largest communities.

The direction in which these developments are pointing is plain enough. The Monongahela Valley and its immediate environs on both sides of the river are being welded together by changes and pressures in many phases of modern community life.

It will be foolish, in our opinion, to allow artificial municipal boundaries to interfere any more than absolutely necessary with this welding process. And it is not a bit too early for the leaders of the various communities to be looking for opportunities to counsel with each other about the future.

Labor Unions Need Legal Restraints

THE SENATE Select Committee has shown admirable ingenuity and courage in ferreting out corruption in professional labor management. Whether the Congress will demonstrate equal resourcefulness in legislating against this evil remains to be seen.

The committee is due to resume hearings soon on this matter, and it appears there will be disclosures of more offenses of the type charged to President Dave Beck and others of the Teamsters' Union.

The cry is heard that Beck and his like are a small minority among labor professionals and that it would be unwise to pass laws affecting so many to get at the abuses of so few. But whether the Senate committee ever reveals one more offense, it has already demonstrated that corruption can run rampant indefinitely in the country's largest union. That's a large area of transgression.

There is some contention too that in Beck's shenanigans with union funds there has been nothing illegal — just immoral. It seems to us that if the labor movement is to be prey to guys without conscience, then it's time our laws caught up with our morals. And the legislation, far from being punitive of unions, would actually be protective of them.

* * *

FOUR specific things might be done to outlaw the ravaging of unions: (1) the law could see that union charters provide genuinely democratic control by union members themselves; (2) legal protection could be raised around the welfare and pension funds, now at an astronomical $25 billion and an open invitation to thievery; (3) realistic control could be exercised over labor's political activities as they relate to corruption and racketeering; and (4) the coercion could be taken out of union membership, requiring the union to "sell itself" on the basis of the service it gives to its members and the standard of conduct it follows in society.

None of these measures would hamper the legitimate union mission of representing labor in the industrial community; any of them would help to prevent the rise of Dave Becks.

How much statesmanship can be mustered for such a program is problematic. Our own guess is not much.

Merry-Go-Round—

Leaders of Congress Cool To Ike's Plan

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's sudden summons of congressional leaders to discuss plans for a substitute President in case of presidential disability came as a surprise to most of the country. It did not come as a surprise to many inside the administration.

Mr. Pearson

They have been concerned for some time over the nervousness of the President, his persistent, hacking cough, his tendency not to concentrate for any length of time on difficult problems, and his habit of dressing-down his assistants as if they were buck privates. He has a continuing desire to get away from Washington, did not want to return from Thomasville, Ga., to launch the MidEast doctrine, and will now leave shortly for Augusta, Ga.

Meanwhile, there are difficult decisions which, under the American system of government, only the President can make.

As a result, friends of the President have been discussing a bill which would permit the President to become a sort of President Emeritus, go into semi-retirement, with full duties of decision taken over by Vice President Nixon.

This is an extremely touchy subject, because it bears out some of the statements made, and denied, about the President's health during the election campaign. Because of this, and because the plan was likely to arouse opposition in Congress, it was finally discarded. Instead, it was suggested that a constitutional amendment be passed whereby either the President could declare himself unfit, or the cabinet could rule him unfit. The Vice President would then take over.

"Don't Abdicate"

Summoned to the White House, congressional leaders took the precaution to study the Constitution in advance. Speaker Sam Rayburn read it at breakfast before he went to the White House. Congressman Mannie Celler of Brooklyn took a copy to the White House and held it in his lap during the closed door session with Ike.

In the end, they "threw the book" — the Constitution — at the President.

Eisenhower opened the meeting in serious but friendly vein.

"I have asked you gentlemen down here on a matter of deep concern to me," he said, "something to which I have been giving a great deal of thought."

After explaining further his plan for relieving the President in case of disability, Eisenhower said: "I am not a lawyer and do not know much about these things, but I would like you to listen to attorney General Brownell."

Brownell then read the proposed constitutional amendment, together with a letter which Ike proposed sending to Congress asking for its passage.

The reaction of congresional leaders was immediate.

"Mr. President" snapped Speaker Sam Rayburn, who has had more congressional experience than any other man in America, "if you send that letter, the American people will never understand it. They elected you, not Nixon. They elected you by one of the greatest majorities in history. They do not expect you to abdicate."

The President had said that this would not apply to him because a constitutional amendment could not be passed before he was out of office. But congressional leaders did not appear to believe this.

Strongest opposition, in addition to Rayburn's, came from Senator Knowland, the Republican leader, Rep. John McCormack of Boston, the Democratic leader, and Rep. Celler.

Cellar read from Article II, Section I of the Constitution, which, he said, gives Congress the right to rule on the conditions of removing the President and the right to select a successor, either until an election is held or the disability of the President is removed.

"There it is in black and white," said Celler. "What's wrong with it? Why change it?"

"We are talking as if this was a new idea," replied Eisenhower, beginning to be nettled at the chilly response. "It has come up before on several occasions."

He then recalled that after President Garfield was shot and lay near death for several months we were without a President and many people thought that Chester Arthur should have assumed office.

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Only an aroused rank-and-file membership can free labor from corrupt union leadership.

You can pass laws until you are red, white and blue in the face, but unless the organized workers take, keep and use their Democratic union rights, they are going to suffer, their unions are going to suffer, and the Becks and the Hoffas and the Brewsters will be periodically on the loose.

Mr. Drummond

This, it seems to me, is the essential lesson of the sad trail of misconduct which the McClellan Senate Commitee is exposing in the affairs of the International Union of Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Helpers and in which the teamsters, chauffeurs and helpers have had little voice and no control.

Probe Long Overdue

This investigation is long overdue. But the reforms which are crying to be made can come only when the union members themselves demand democratic control of their unions and insist that they have in their hands the mechanism of voting and accountability which will make that control work.

It won't be done by the massive Teamsters Union if the members become self-consciously defensive and make the mistake of feeling that their union is being attacked when it is only the egregious abuses of their leaders which are being attacked.

Without judging Dave Beck's criminal guilt — that can be done only by the courts — there is plenty for the teamsters, chauffeurs and helpers, conscious of their rights as union members and of their duties as citizens, to be aroused about. Beck and his associates, several of whom are already under indictment, have committed offenses which should cause them to be removed from every position of trust:

Use Union Funds

Because they have engaged in a concealed, unwilling-to-explain personal use of union funds already exceeding $300,000 which shows that they place themselves above duty to their union.

Because they are bringing undeserved disrepute and dishonor upon the whole labor movement from which it can free itself only by freeing itself from such leaders.

Because they are responsible for presenting to the whole world, at a time when the Communists will use it to a fare-thee-well, a backened image of America as a nation in which a great labor union is entangled in practices which smear Democracy in spirit and deed.

American labor should not be punished for the offenses of the Becks and the Hoffas and the Brewsters. But labor will be hurt politically and morally and as an instrument of collective influence if it does not decisively do whatever is needed to vest control of its affairs into the hands of its members.

Secret Ballot Vital

Undoubtedly the top leaders of the A. F. L. —C. I. O., George Meany and Walter Reuther, who are assisting the McClellan investigation, know what is needed. They are aware that corrective actions must deal with the cause, not just the consequences of "Beck-ism." The nub of reform, I should think, is:

1. The election of local, national and international officers by secret, mail ballot — with supervision of the elections either by the Federal government or by an independent private agency of undoubted integrity such as the Better Ballot League.

2. Detailed, continuous financial accountability for all funds, buttressed by an independent audit of the official handling of union funds by a firm of certified public accountants approved by the union membership.

Protests Impossible

Remember at the recent McClellan hearing Beck talked so repeatedly about how any member of his union could get an accounting of union funds if he felt "aggrieved." Man, let him try! The by-laws of this union are so rigged that its president can decapitate any member who dares raise an inquiring head. Beck wouldn't even need the Fifth Amendment to help him.

Only union members can get the Becks off the neck of labor — and keep them off. They can do it only by using their ballot and taking charge.

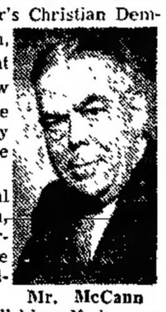
Behind The News—

Adenauer Is Making Political Comeback

By CHARLES M. McCANN

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany is making a big political comeback.

Only a few weeks ago the Social Democrats, the chief opposition to Adenauer's Christian Democratic Union, were confident they would throw him out in the parliamentary election to be held Sept. 15.



Mr. McCann

Now political experts in Bonn, the West German capital, are predicting an Adenauer victory.

The "old man" himself—he was 81 on Jan. 5—is mapping out a whistle-stop campaign in order to show West Germany's 35 million voters that, despite his age, he still is vigorous and able to lead his government for another four-year term.

He plans to cover the country in his special train, taking his big black Mercedes sedan on a flat car for detours, and make at least three or four speeches a day in addition to a series of big set speeches spaced through the campaign.

Adenauer Getting Stronger

It is interesting that Adenauer seems to be getting stronger while the leaders of the other three big governments in Western Europe—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain, Premier Guy Mollet of France and Premier Antonio Segni of Italy—all are in trouble over one issue or another.

Adenauer had succeeded in putting over an unpopular rearmament program including conscription. He was compelled to reduce the draft term from 18 months to one year. But the first batch of 9,733 draftees entered service Monday without incident and the draft is being accepted.

At the moment, on his way home after a state visit to Iran, Adenauer is preparing to enter important trade negotiations with Russia.

The Soviet government has long been seeking better relations with West Germany—on its own terms.

Though he reluctantly established diplomatic relations with Russia, Adenauer has not proved responsive to Russian gestures.

No Russian Talks

He has said publicly that he does not care to confer either with Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin or with Soviet Deputy Premier and Trade Minister Anastas I. Mikoyan, who also wants to visit Bonn.

Adenauer's reason for his coldness to the Russians is because the Soviet government will not agree to Germany's reunification. He is determined, too, to keep West Germany tied to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization unless there is a revolutionary change in the European situation.

It is reported in Bonn that Adenauer is preparing to send a new communication on reunification to Moscow within the next few weeks.

Because of the unification situation, Adenauer has refused to enter a formal trade agreement with Russia. Hence the negotiations which are to start late this month or early in May will be for an informal trade agreement instead of a formal trade treaty.

Russia is so eager for the agreement that it is likely Mikoyan will head the Soviet trade delegation despite the fact that Adenauer is on record as not particularly wanting to see him.

The Views of Others—

Exchange Student Plan Has Its Drawbacks

(From the Greensburg Tribune-Review)

Whether the exchange-student plan, which brought a German and an Austrian girl to Greensburg and Monessen high schools this year, will accomplish the good its sponsors, and many others, hoped for may be open to question.

In Monessen the other day the Austrian girl is quoted as saying that "school work here is much easier than at home. . ." and that "These true-and-false tests are just stupid. You don't have to think, you just put down this or that and that's all there is to it."

Similar comments have been reported from other sections of the country. Most of the foreign students who came here now are expressing the fear that they have lost a year of schooling because American courses are too soft.

It could be that if hundreds of exchange students carry the same idea back to their homelands, the result will not be friendship for America but a kind of snob superiority which has led to two world wars.

It's probably true that the high schools of Europe are superior in some respects to those in this country. But in America every child is guaranteed free schooling until he graduates from high school. In such a production effort the curriculum must necessarily be tailored to fit the average student.

There has been agitation for some time that the schools provide severer tests for the more intelligent students, but most districts have been reluctant to discriminate in that direction although many areas have provided special education for the sub-normal.

In a recent talk to the local Lions Club a local exchange student reported that children from six to 14 must attend school. Elementary school, she noted, lasts four years and then each pupil takes an examination to enter high school which extends for nine more years. Only one-sixth of the children attend high schools, she said.

High schools abroad apparently have little extra-curricular activities such as is current in this country. In other words most of school is work, work, work.

The American school system may not satisfy Europe, but — as weak as it may be — it has proved over the years that it does produce men and women who know the full meaning of the word freedom; who practice it and are eager to extend a helping hand to those who have been oppressed in their homelands.

It may be that the talk of children should not be taken seriously — but it's the youth of any nation who provide the workers and rulers of the future.

It may be that when the youngsters return home they will remember much about extra-curricular activities and about the American way of livingg and not be too concerned over the fact that they were not treated like human adding-machines or robots in their school rooms in America.

The Lighter Side—

'Fooey' on Diets, Says Weighty Lawmaker

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)—Albert Cote, a most happy fella who is a booster for things Maine—like lobster, potatoes, and eggs—and who is serving his fourth term in the Legislature of that fine state, has a one-word comment on the modern fad of dieting:

"Fooey."

He believes in letting the appetite rove uncontined—that weight can elate, that the more you eat the happier you are. To that end, he's 353 pounds happy, a plateau he has maintained for several years. This joyousness is spread over a five-foot, 9½-inch frame.

Cote, a Democrat, says his weight helps him in politics, too. Once the voters see him, they never forget him. Any platform he stands on has to have some pretty stout planks.

Has Special Chair

He presumes he's easily the heaviest state legislator in the country. In the interests of accommodating weighty legislation, his fellow representatives at the end of his first term seven years ago unanimously voted a House order presenting him with a special chair, an enlarged version of the regular floor chairs. The arms of the regular ones fitted him so snugly that he had to struggle to become unstuck when he wanted to get up.

Cote says Maine also has the youngest legislator, Jerome Plante, 21, who took a leave of absence from college to serve this term.

I had lunch with Cote. He ate an ordinary steak with French fries. What made the meal remarkable was the fact that just prior to lunch he had eaten 51 eggs (Maine eggs, of course, sunny side up) in one sitting. This was a stunt to call attention to that estimable product of his state. Poultry business is now the biggest money-making agricultural industry in Maine.

"My weight always has been a Godsend to me," he said. "It has helped me make friends. I like to meet people, and people always remember me."

Junior Clubwomen Plan for Contest

Preliminary plans were advanced for the Miss Mon Valley Contest of 1957 at a meeting of the executive board of the Junior Women's Club held last night at the home of the president, Mrs. Joseph Dudas, Jr., of Knox avenue.

The club will sponsor the activity for the second consecutive year and committee appointments were announced. It will be staged on June 12 with Mrs. Robert Gilotty in charge of publicity, Mrs. John R. McGovern, entries; Mrs. Joseph Dudas, Jr., staging and judging; Mrs. Herman Mihalich, program; Mrs. Frank Ezerski, tickets; Donna Stofka, awards; Dolores Curcio, advertising and promotion; Mrs. Stephen Druash hostess and Mrs. Lee Jones, stage manager.

Mrs. Dudas Presides

Mrs. Dudas conducted the meeting during which the club voted support of two bills, the increase of salaries of Postal Workers and the House Bill on personnel management.

Mrs. John R. McGovern and Janice Calderone will represent the club at the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Women's Clubs in Philadelphia, April 24, 25 and 26.

Will Sponsor Dinner

The club will sponsor a fish and chips dinner at the Slovak Home on April 12, and half of the proceeds will go to the mentally retarded children's fund and the Easter Seal Campaign to aid crippled children. Luncheon will be served from 11 a. m. to 2 and Mrs. Robert Farr will be in charge and dinner from 5 to 7 p. m. with Mrs. Allan Conaway in charge.

The board also voted to cooperate in sponsoring the annual Post Prom party.

N.I.P.A. Ladies Lodge Holds Business Meet

A meeting of the North Italian Political Association Ladies lodge was held in the lodge hall on Knox avenue. The president, Mrs. Lena Valdiserri, was in charge.

Plans were discussed for a Mother's Day program and the date will be announced. Mrs. Lena Delzangle will be general chairman.

Routine reports were given and the next meeting was planned for Wednesday, April 10, instead of the regular meeting date, which would be the third Thursday of the month and in Holy Week.

May Breakfast Is Planned for Diocesan Group

The Rev. Edmund Cuneo, OSB, assistant to the president of St. Vincent College, will be guest speaker at a Communion breakfast being planned by the Catholic Business and Professional Women's Association of the Greensburg Diocese.

The breakfast has been set for Sunday, May 5, at Seton Hill College. Father Cuneo will celebrate the mass before breakfast and Monsignor Cyril J. Vogel, vice chancellor of Greensburg Diocese, moderator of the BPW groups of the Diocese, will be master of ceremonies for the breakfast.

Officers Assume Duties at Valley Auxiliary Meeting

The April meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Barracks 350 World War I Veterans was held in the Charleroi Elks Club on Monday evening. The session started the second year of activity for the group and the newly installed officers were in charge.

They are Mrs. Louis Roth, who was re-elected president, Mrs. E. N. Burton, first vice president; Mrs. Edward Murray, second vice president; Mrs. Everett Hormell, treasurer; Mrs. Carl Younkin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Russell Hormell, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Harper, chaplain; Mrs. Jane Daniels, conductor, Mrs. Minnie Sedlar, guard; Mrs. Younkin, three year trustee, Mrs. Sam Saverino, two year trustee and Mrs. Thomas Keefe, one year trustee; Mrs. A. H. Hill, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Howard Abercrombie historian; Mrs. Sara Leviskie, Mrs. Francis Bezy, Mrs J. B. G. Roberts and Mrs. Abercrombie, color guards; Mrs. Younkin, pianist.

After the opening ceremony a memorial service was held for Mrs Martha Shipe.

Two new members were welcomed into the organization.

Mrs. Younkin then read a summary of a speech made by Past National Commander Emanuel Levy, which contained the following information. In 1953 there were 60 barracks and to date there are 827 in 44 states. The membership of the organization is 100,000 and it continues to grow. All interested eligible men and women are asked to become members. Local applications can be obtained from any member of either group or from Mr. and Mrs. Carl Younkin in Belle Vernon.

Reports were given by Mrs. Agnes Burton, Mrs. Louis Roth and Mrs. Younkin on the conference held in Uniontown on Sunday and the state convention was announced for Williamsport July 19, 20 and 21.

Mrs. Roth thanked Mrs. Everett Murray and her committee for the success of the recent installation dinner and also for the poppy centerpieces, which she had made for the guest table and which were later presented to State Commander Leslie Barnhart, State Auxiliary President Mrs. Jennie Goughner and Mrs. Roth.

The membership fee was dropped from $5 to $3 and the charter is now closed.

An all member birthday party will be held in June and details will be announced.

After the closing, luncheon was served and there was a social time.

Ford Auxiliary Members Will Attend Sessions

A meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Joseph H. Ford Post 691 American Legion was held on Monday evening in the Post Home on Schoonmaker avenue.

Mrs. Maggie Carter, president, was in charge of the business session during which plans were made for a fish fry to be held at the home on Friday.

Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Opha Pugh and Mrs. Nelson Rose were named to attend the National Commander's banquet to be held next Monday evening at the Manor American Legion Post Home.

Reservations were also made for the luncheon honoring the National Department President. It will be held in the Hotel Webster Hall in Pittsburgh on April 25. Mrs. Carl Crawley, Mrs. Shellie Rone, Mrs. Opha Pugh, Mrs. Delcie Taylor and Mrs. Maggie Carter will attend.

A social hour followed the meeting and luncheon was served.

Church Bazaar Is Planned At St. Leonard

Representatives of the various organizations of St. Leonard Church and other members of the Parish met in a general session in the Parish Hall last night.

Plans were discussed for a special fund raising activity in which the entire church could participate and it was decided to sponsor a church bazaar. It will be a late June event, however, the exact date was not chosen or the place.

Henry D'Alonzo was named as general chairman and Mrs. Julianna Rauscher was appointed general chairlady.

Another meeting was set for next Wednesday evening in the church hall after devotions are held in the church. At this time further details of the project will be outlined.

Barbara Johnson Entertains for Montonians

The Montonians met at the home of Barbara Johnson, on Saturday. The president, Mrs. Delcie Taylor, was in charge of the business session.

A bake sale was announced by Mrs. Anthony Grogan and Miss Johnson. It will be held today at the American Legion Home on Schoonmaker avenue beginning at noon.

After the business session luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. William Claytor.

The club will meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Algie Link, of Grant street.

Class of 1952 Reunion Set For the Ankara

The Ankara was chosen by the Monessen High School graduating class of 1952 as the site for a reunion on Saturday, Aug. 9, to mark the fifth anniversary of graduation.

A meeting of class members was held on Monday evening in the Civic Center with the class president, George Almasi, in charge.

Dinner and entertainment will feature the session and committees will be named to have charge.

C. D. of A. Holds Initiation At Charleroi

Court Charleroi 669 Catholic Daughters of America held a reception of new members on Sunday at the Charleroi Elks Club. Presiding was Grand Regent Rosemary Martinet and district deputy was Mrs. Mary McGinty, of Monongahela.

Valley courts invited to participate in the reception were Donora 372, Monessen 776, Court Transfiguration 995 of Monongahela, Court Miriam 1315 West Newton and Court Dolores 1675, of Bentleyville.

In attendance were Miss Frances Maher, National Supreme Regent and Mrs. Mae Schasney, State Regent. Hostesses for the day included Mrs. Marie Slezak, Mrs. Mary Ann D'Alonzo, of Monessen, rally to be held May 5. Helen Connell, Sylvia Martinko, Dolores Hough and Mary Elizabeth Geisler.

Dinner followed the reception. Invocation was by the host court chaplain, the Rev. James McKeever. Welcome was by Mrs. Martinet and Mrs. Slezak served as toastmaster.

Greetings were extended to all new members by Miss Maher and Mrs. Schasney.

The main address was by the Rev. Paul G. Leger, chaplain of the Monongahela Court. There was a talk by Mrs. McGinty and Mrs. Slezak introduced the visiting officers and guests. Benediction was offered by the Rev. Thomas Walsh, chaplain of Bentleyville Court.

Included in the reception were 17 candidates from Monessen, Barbara Ann Alesanni, Stella Andricovich, Leonora Bonni, Marcia Brighenti, Ann Cavrak, Ann Colonna, Marjorie Dellamalva, Yolanda DiBuono, Alvira Dimperio, Mary Fabian, Ruth Hannegan, Millie Kraynek, Virginia Naccarato, Helen Pfeister, Wilma Thomas, Nancy Trilli and Margaret Thompson.

Mignonettes Hold Meeting At Crawley Home

Mrs. Ruby Crawley, of Park Manor, entertained the Mignonettes at her home recently for a business session and social time.

Plans were completed for the Fashion Show and Tea to be held by the group on April 14. Two guests will be invited to preside at the tea table and models for the fashions will be named.

Cards were played and Mrs. Jolyn Steers was the high score winner.

The hostess served luncheon buffet fashion and plans were made to have the next meeting at the home of Bobette Gaskins, of Ninth street.

Class of 1947 Is Planning Aug. 17 Reunion

Plans were started and a steering committee formed by members of the Monessen High School graduating class of 1947, who are planning a reunion to mark the 10th anniversary of their graduation.

The affair has been set for Aug 17, and committees will be formulated to plan the details. Another meeting of class members has been set for April 10, at the Civic Center at 7:30.

Details will be worked out at this time and committee appointments will be made.

Catholic Youth Council Names New Officers

Officers were elected at a meeting of the Catholic Youth Council held on Monday evening in St. Leonard Parish Hall and Judy Todaro was named to serve as president.

Other officers elected were James Baker, vice president; Diane DeRocco, secretary and Eileen Mullen, treasurer.

Those officers will succeed the temporary ones, who were appointed by the Rev. J. L. Conway, youth moderator and assistant pastor at St. Leonard.

Father Conway opened the meeting with a prayer and after the business session a movie of the recent "mystery bus tour" was shown.

After the regular meeting the officers met with Father Conway to discuss coming activities. The next meeting was set for May 6.

LOCALS

Leonard Nevala, of Maple avenue, Monessen, Mrs. John Aber, of Murraysville, Pittsburgh and Mrs. Sunny Cameron, of Long Island, N. Y. left by plane from Pittsburgh airport last night for Oakland, Calif., where they were called due to the death of their mother, Mrs. Anna Nevala. Services will be held Friday.

Mrs. Ann DeRocco and daughter, Mrs. Sophie Jarabeck and Mrs. Bertha Organ, all of Monessen, attended funeral services for the late Mrs. William Deering, in Baltimore, Md. on Monday.

The Bethel Sisters of St. Luke Lutheran Church will meet on Thursday evening in the church parlors. Hostesses will be Mrs. Charles Suomela and Mrs. Wayne Kalvesmaki.

Mrs. Michael Ninchak, of 514 First street, was admitted to Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh, last night and will undergo treatment for an arm ailment. Her room number is 509.

There will be a program at the Church of God in Christ tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock featuring the Sermonettes of Aliquippa. Elder J. E. Bass is church pastor.

Firemen's Auxiliary Holds Business and Social Meet

The April meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Monessen Volunteer Fire Department and Relief Association was held last night in the City Building with President Katherine Kunsa in charge. Chaplain Minnie Sedlar gave the opening prayer and led in the pledge of allegiance.

There were 26 members present. Auxiliary members wishing to submit names for membership must confine the names to only affiliated members.

Routine reports were given by Dorothy Gaydos, secretary, Shirley Marino, treasurer and Lucy Kasper, financial secretary.

Donations were voted for the Post Prom Party, Easter Seal campaign and Lions Club Minstrel program.

Mrs. Kunsa reported on the illness of Mrs. Stella Jones, auxiliary member.

Mrs. Gaydos and Mrs. Kunsa gave committee reports and the latter reported on the fluoridation committee session, which she recently attended at the High School.

A thank you card was received from Mrs. Betty Uhal for rememberances sent to her by the group while she was ill.

Nellie Miller won the evening prize and the "pig" was won by Ann Mahovlich. The bank winner was Mary Dalfonso.

After the business session members went to the social rooms and refreshments were served by a committee headed by Shirley Merino assisted by Norma DeMatteo, Mary Arcuri and Sally Skekel. The next meeting will be May 2.

'Speaking of Beauty'

A Beauty Pick-up

James V. Bonafed

IT HAPPENS to everyone! You've gone along day after day feeling fine. Suddenly one morning you look in your mirror and find you're—well, dowdy! Your skin has lost its glow. Lines show up plainly. And your hair—it falls limp when you comb it. You look old, tired . . . What's the solution?

**

When this mood strikes, make a bee-line for our beauty salon! Our own special brand of magic must have been designed for these days in your life. In three hours you can feel new again with a beauty pick-up.

**

First you'll sit down in our salon chair feeling jumpy and frumpy . . . but something wonderful begins the moment we start brushing your hair for that soothing, delightful shampoo. That tight, taut feeling lessens, in the back of your neck. Then, almost at once, your tension is all gone. And it's replaced by a delightful feeling. Soon you're going to feel lovely again!

**

You are now ready for our stylists to give you a hairstyle analysis, based on the current trend in fashion, your personality, and the shape of your face and features.

**

It's fun to try to guess what your new style will look like, while we're cutting your hair! (Doesn't the beautician work deftly.) A coiffure that falls into smart lines must have a haircut that's "architecturally right". Even if you've had a trim just days ago, we like to trim and shape a bit. (Most hair grows one-half to three-quarters of an inch a month.)

**

Now it's time for your permanent wave . . . best beauty tonic a woman ever had! Professional permanents condition your hair. Tell us, first, whether you long for a tight all-cover curl, or a soft casual wave. We'll give you exactly what you wish . . . quickly, expertly! And whether you choose a tight curl or a soft curl, it will look so natural. That's the beauty of our waves!

**

A new hairstyle follows . . . isn't it exciting? A short, restful time under the dryer . . . and you're ready to watch magic in the mirror, as your coiffure is combed into place!

**

A NEW look . . . a new you! It probably didn't cost any more than a new hat—and oh, such lasting happiness is yours, when you know you're feeling younger, prettier!

**

It's spring! And Easter is just around the corner. Wouldn't this be a perfect time to get a "Beauty Pick-up!" a perfect gift idea, a beauty package.

Tryng to Promote Westminster Game

A live-wire organization in the city is trying to persuade Westminster College to play a basketball game at the Monessen High gym next season. With Ron Minnie, ex of Monessen, and Charley Davis, ex of South Union, in the Westminster lineup, the tussle figures to lure a full house if the deal goes through . . . Paul Long, the KDKA newscaster who was recently named as the "third man" for Pittsburgh Pirate broadcasts, started his radio career in sports. Long recalls that he once described seven straight basketball games in a scholastic tournament at El Dorado, Arkansas, when a second announcer became ill.

Three WPIAL products — Bob Gaydos, Donora; Ed Sullivan, McKeesport; and Bob Ward, German Twp., are running with the regulars during spring drills at Notre Dame . . . . Incidentally the Irish biggies are reportedly peeved at the report that they plan to increase athletic aid to boost the school's sagging grid fortunes. Actually there will be NO change in Notre Dame's traditional scholarship policy . . . Reginald Haten, of Rostraver, and John Hewitt, of Bellmar, just missed making All-Section teams published in the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph the other day.

Here's Donora Midget League Report

The Midget Football League in Donora cost $2,517 51 to operate last season. Despite that lustry price tag, the league wound up with $314.85 left over in the treasury. In addition the Donora Community Chest added $425 to the cause . . . By the way, the Monessen Midget League will start out the current season with more than $1,500 in the treasury. However this promises to be an expensive season for the local organization. A great deal of equippment must be replaced to keep the youngsters fully protected. At the moment MFL officials are dickering with the School Board for concession privileges again this season to defray expenses without a public solicitation.

The Duquesne University baseball team has no less than six regulars back from last year's fine club. The big star is Catcher Dave Ricketts, also of basketball fame. Ricketts hit .393 for the Dukes last season. The top pitcher on the squad is Fritz Binder, another cager . . . Len Bianchi, the ex Monessen and Carnegie Tech basketballer, wound up in floor togs again last week to play for a Blairsville team in the Scottdale Open Basketball Tournament . . . An irate reader, who requests not to be identified, asks: "Who was the Mon Valley coach who booed at the Ozark Basketball Tournament when James (Beanie) Gordon of Washington was named the most valuable player in the junior division?"

Farrell Faces Big Rebuilding

Ed McCluskey, Farrell High basketball coach, faces his biggest rebuilding job next season at the Steeler school. He has only Frank Sincak and English Price back from the first ten men of the past season. The Steelers will play host to Monessen on November 17 . . . Chester High, an easy victim of Sharon in the PIAA title basketball game, proved a big disapointment to WPIAL followers. The Clippers obviously had a bad night, but they appeared confused as well against the Bengals. In the final period, Sharon "stalled" for almost five minutes with Chester making little or no attempt to break up the freeze.

Today's Sports Parade —

Allie Reynolds Son Out for College Nine

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — Allie Reynolds Jr., is discovering today that it's mighty tough trying to be a chip off the old block.

A few years back, you'll remember his dad was one of baseball's finest pitchers. But the young man didn't decide until three years ago that he would like to emulate the famed 'Super Chief" of the New York Yankees.

"I wear the same size shoes," young Allie explains ruefully as he strives to make the University of Oklahoma baseball team, "but it's awfully hard filling them."

Looks Like Dad

Physically a ringer for his famous father, young Allie at 20 stands six feet tall and weighs 190 pounds. A geology sophomore at Oklahoma he too is articulate and soft-spoken and — as in the case of the shoes — he wears his dad's old glove jacket and hat.

"I'm afraid that's where the similarity ends," he grins shyly. "I've gotten off to a real slow start as far as a baseball career is concerned and I have a long way to go even as far as playing in college."

The signs were heartening to the 'Chief' who was never out of double figures as a winner in a dozen years in the major leagues. Young Allie pitched a no-hitter in a high school regional tournament and helped his industrial league summer team to its league championship.

The 'Chief' had admonished his son that his degree comes first. He never encouraged the boy to play baseball because, he says, "It takes natural ability and a great deal of mutual desire." But since young Allie has made his choice, the Chief is eager to help.

It would be nice to be able to report that young Allie is a natural who will be the star of the O U team this spring. He won't. As a matter of fact, he didn't even make the 24-man traveling squad which Coach Jack Baer took to Austin, Tex., for the season's opener against Texas.

Sooners Have Potent Nine

But in fairness to young Allie Baer has a veteran team and Oklahoma is almost as potent in baseball as it is in football.

"I'm real green" young Allie admits "and I've got to work hard to make up for lost time. Sure it's easy to talk about baseball if you don't work every spare minute—and do a lot of thinking about it too—that's all you'll wind up with—just talk."

With that kind of an attitude, those who remember the "Super Chief" won't discount this chip off the old block who "sure would like to make the majors, too." If he has any of the old man's talents it just may be like father, like son.

Close Scores in Slovak League

Slovak Home blanked the Christian Mothers and Holy Name won a pair from Ladies Auxiliary in Slovak Ladies League bowling last night.

Top scorers were Helen Kilvady, 168-410, Irene Kandrick, 139-359, Mary Hornack, 153 352, Mary Chuck, 109 320, and Betty Chomsko 112-311.

Standings show Holy Name, 30-9; Slovak Home 25-16; Christian Mothers 15 26, and Ladies Auxiliary, 12-27.

Fear Slow Course for 'Masters'

By WILLIAM TUCKER

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP)— An old southern custom — Bermuda greens — cropped up two months ahead of time today to confuse just about everybody on the eve of the 21st Masters golf tournament.

The tournament people were afraid the Bermuda would make the fine Italian rye grass, sown with a fine Italian hand, too slow. The players were afraid they would run into unseen tufts of the stuff in the ordinary business of coming through the rye.

What has happened is this: Bermuda, the finest base grass that a southern golf course can buy, is heavily mixed in the turf of the Augusta National Golf Course as a firming element but is expected to keep its head low. Due to a balmy southern winter it has started sprouting and, for better or worse, the Masters this year has Bermuda.

Big Field

A field of at least 100 is assured for Thursday's first round. It is the blue ribbon event of golf bringing together the champions of the last generation by special invitation of Bobby Jones. Jones founded the tournament on a course of his own design in 1934 after his retirement.

Since 1949, however, Jones has been unable to make his lone annual appearance in the Masters due to a crippling back ailment.

But such characters as Gene Sarazen, Lawson Little, Densmore Shute (long since called Dinny) and Henry Picard, looking no day older than when he was the Candy Kid, are indestructible and always on hand for one last try. The Masters' big gesture is to invite all past major tournament champions.

Foreign Stars

The Masters also invites foreign stars, some of them slightly domesticated such as Al Balding, who waltzed to a 67 Tuesday. Balding is Canadian PGA champion from Islington, Ont.

Masters fans like the chances of Jimmy Demaret and Sam Snead, the only three-time winners of the event. Demaret shot an elegant 70 Tuesday, wise cracking from a golfcart en route. Snead birdied all four par-five holes with wonderful woods and dizzy putts then flubbed the easy ones to end with a par.

To Hold Hearing On Eubanks Case

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A hearing will be held next week on a claim by welterweight Johnny Eubanks that he was short-changed in his share of a $700 purse from his fight with Wilf Greaves in February.

Paul G. Sullivan, state Athletic Commission member, conferred Tuesday with the fighter's manager, P. J. (Bunny) Buntag, and then postponed the hearing until next week because another of Buntag's fighters, middleweight Pedro Gonzales, has a fight with Earl Grey in New Orleans Friday night.

Buntag told Sullivan he would present canceled checks and other records at the hearing. The manager has denied any irregularity.

MICKEY MANTLE, OF THE YANKEES, WHO HAS THE TOUGHEST SET OF STATISTICS TO LIVE UP TO THIS SEASON.

Bosox Need Help to Win Pennant Chase

By LEO H. PETERSEN

SARASOTA, Fla. (UP) — The Boston Red Sox' million dollar offer for pitcher Herb Score was interpreted as an admission by their front office that they can't win with what they've got.

Last year at this time the Yawkey millionaires were tabbed as a likely pennant winner, but Manager Mike Higgins' pitching went sour and they wound up in fourth place, 13 games behind the Yankees.

That's why Higgins says that pitching will determine how far the club will go in 1957. He also admits he has to "straighten out my infield."

The one department of the Red Sox which is of solid pennant-winning caliber is the outfield with Ted Williams in left, Jim Piersall in center and Jack Jensen in right. Williams, eager to win the batting title, hit .345 in 1956 with 82 RBIs while Jensen batted .315 with 97 RBIs. Piersall without a peer in the field, hit .293 with 87 RBIs.

Other Positions Uncertain

But beyond the outfield the Red Sox lineup is uncertain. There are three candidates for each infield post. At first, it's even a battle against rookies for the veteran Mickey Vernon, who batted .310 last year with 84 RBIs.

Billy Goodman, a good hitter who can't make the double play; Ted Lepcio and two veterans of the baseball trail, Gene Mauch and Billy Klaus, are the second base candidates.

Klaus also is in the running for shortstop along with Billy Consolo and Milt Bolling and also can play third. So can Lepcio. Frank Malzone, for whom the Red Sox had such high hopes last spring and then wound up sending him down to San Francisco, and rookie Ken Aspromonte are the other third base candidates.

Sam White and Pete Daley, who divided the job last year, and bonus rookie Haywood Sullivan, will handle the catching chores.

Sisler "Real Comer"

As for pitching, Higgins tabs Dick Sisler, who won nine while losing eight last season, as "a real comer." Only Sisler, Tom Brewer (19 9) and Ivan Delock (13-7) lived up to Higgins' expectations last year.

Right hander Frank Sullivan won 14 games while losing seven but he started the season in the potential "20 game" class. Bob Porterfield was a disappointment with his 3-12 record and so was the veteran southpaw Mel Parnell, with his 7-6 record. Better things also had been expected of Willard Nixon (9-8) and George Susce (2-4).

Those eight hurlers are sure to stick, so its little wonder, off 1956 pitching performances, the Red Sox were willing to pay a million dollars for Score. With him the Red Sox feel they could win the pennant. Without him—and that's how they are going to be—they may have more of a battle than they can handle to finish in the first division.

Dupas Is Permitted To Fight

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Lightweight boxer Ralph Dupas claimed one of the big victories of his life today after the Louisiana Boxing Commission okayed his April 8 fight with Vince Martinez and declined to rule on charges Dupas is a Negro.

Sixth-ranked Dupas, who at 21 already has a seven year professional boxing record, said Tuesday night's commission action "couldn't have made me happier."

The commission was asked last week to rule on charges brought by a section of the state Health Department that Dupas was Negro and therefore ineligible to fight whites in the state because of a 1956 law which bans all racially mixed athletics.

But the commission said that after two hearings — one in which Dupas, his mother and a woman who attended Mrs. Dupas at his birth testified — they found nothing to justify rescinding a sanction given for Dupas' 10-rounder with Martinez, sixth-ranked welterweight.

While the commission's action apparently leaves fight promoter Heard Regas a clear field to stage the bout, the fact remained that the charge of Negro brought against Dupas was not directly ruled upon.

Many commission members said privately they believe it was beyond the jurisdiction of the commission to rule on any man's racial background.

Had the commission ruled against Dupas, Ragas said he planned to challenge the constitutionality of the 1956 racial ban law, which has already caused misery to the New Orleans Sugar Bowl promoters, who seek top basketball and football teams from all sections of the country. Many northern teams refused to play in Louisiana after the law passed the state legislature.

Ragas and his lawyers said today that for the present they planned no legal action.

Jr. Volleyball Show Tomorrow

Junior High volleyball teams from Monessen and Rostraver will take part in the annual Junior WPIAL tournament tomorrow at Braddock.

In all, some 22 schools will compete for the tourney title.

Rostraver will begin against Munhall at 9 40. If the Little Leps survive that test, they will meet Greensburg in a second round battle.

However Munhall is the defending champion, so the Rostraver boys aren't expected to hang around too long.

Monessen has drawn a first round bye. The Junior Hounds will meet the Park Terrace-Clairton Walnut winner about 10 10 a. m.

Schoolboy Nines Anxious to Play

Break in Weather May Permit Some Games Today; MHS Slated Tomorrow

Grudgingly, the weather may permit an exhibition game or so this week after all.

As usual, yesterday's card was erased by rain or wet grounds. It may be a different story, today, though.

Only one game is scheduled at the moment. Bellmar is to appear at Hempfield.

However other valley coaches were busy this morning trying to complete quick arrangements for tussles. They are desperately attempting to work in a game or two before the WPIAL season begins next week.

Hounds Idle

There will be no activity for Monessen today. And that's for certain.

The Greyhounds were to play host to McKeesport, but Ninth Street Park is in no condition for baseball. So officials at the two schools agreed to "postpone the game until next year". Even for scholastic baseball, that's pretty decisive move.

At Bellmar Principal Raymond Barker said he doubts if today's game at Hempfield will be played even though the skies have cleared a little.

There was some real hope that tomorrow's busy schedule will be worked in. The long-range forecast calls for nippy but clear weather.

Play Tomorrow

Monessen is scheduled to welcome West Newton tomorrow while Bellmar is slated to appear at South Huntingdon.

Other Thursday games will send Bethlehem Joint to Charleroi, Clairton to Monongahela and Elizabeth to Donora.

Here is how the "revised" exhibition schedule for the week now looks:

Games Wednesday
Bellmar at Hempfield

Thursday
West Newton at Monessen
Beth Joint at Charleroi
Bellmar at S. Huntingdon
Clairton at Monongahela
Elizabeth at Donora

Friday
Charleroi at Trinity

County Coaches To Award Three $100 Scholarships

Three $100 college scholarships will be awarded at the annual Westmoreland County Track Meet on Friday, May 10, in the Latrobe High Stadium.

The awards will be made by the sponsoring County Coaches Association.

A spokesman said that ten applications will be screened in the next few days.

The Association has also decided to donate $100 to the Dick Kadis Fund.

The county group netted a profit of $2,879 81 in the recent basketball tournament. It was agreed at a recent meeting to pay tourney director Earl Ewing, $100 for his duties in promoting the event.

The next meeting of the Association will be held Friday, April 26.

Preview of Section 17 Season—

Charleroi, Monongahela Nines Are Strong Again

(Rain has wiped out every schoolboy exhibition baseball game so far this season, making it difficult—if not impossible—to present a thorough analysis of 1957 prospects. None-the-less here's the annual Daily Independent baseball preview, compiled after a careful check of the respective training sites. The WPIAL schedule will begin next Monday.)

Bellmar

Bellmar's baseball team will be respectable as usual again this season.

Actually the Canes would be good enough in normal years to make a strong bid for the valley title. However most other Section 17 teams are coming up with truly outstanding teams.

Coach Bap Manzini has a veteran pitcher in Fred Mollard, a heady senior who will captain the team. There are two other experienced hurlers, besides, in Conrad Lupori and Bob Beggs.

The Bellmar infield is solid all around with the possible exception of third. Don Miller was to occupy the hot corner again but he suddenly dropped out of school to enter military service.

Third Base Prospects

Larry Rankin, a sophomore, and Dan Miller, a junior, will probably share the third base duties.

The other infield spots will be manned by senior veterans, Steve Raymond at first, Rudy Houseman at second and Bill Gardner at short.

Tom O'Toole, a sophomore, will replace big brother Jack as catcher.

In the outfield, sophomore Larry Petras is back for another season. He will probably be joined by Bucky Catrino and Bill Sowden.

Charleroi

Charleroi High's defending champion Cougars will have at least five veterans in the starting lineup when they begin Section 17 baseball action next week.

Most importantly, pitcher Carl Witmyer is back for another season He's been unbeatable the past two campaigns and there's no reason to doubt he'll mow down all opposition again this year.

Thus the tried-and-tested Charleroians must be regarded as prime favorites to repeat as valley champions. As a matter of fact, they shape up as serious WPIAL contenders

In addition to Witmyer, the Charleroians have a classy curveballing righthander named Ron Zelenski.

Other Veterans

Other Charleroi veterans include second baseman Ron Cosner, third baseman Myron Pottios, outfielder John Lenhart and first baseman Tim Lee.

Joe Uhlman figures to fill the catching vacancy left by the graduation of Carmen Capelli. And lanky Dave Felak looks like a potentially great shortstop.

The other outfield spots will probably be filled by John Carter Thomas and Chico Delsandro, both capable flychasers.

This team, on paper, at least, look's like one of Charleroi's finest.

California

California's wily coach Don Cornell, will start the season with three holdover regulars and three lettermen

His veterans are shortstop Ewing Bell, third baseman Doug Gasher and first baseman Carmen Quasanella.

The letter-winners include pitcher Frank Scrip, catcher Stan Skibo and outfielder Ken Kulak, who doubles as a utility infielder.

Those six boys are sure starters Completing the lineup will probably be second baseman Aaron Huhn, outfielder Joe Sepesy and outfielder Thomas Mathew.

Cornell admits quite frankly that he's pinning a good deal of his hopes on Scrip, a junior lefthander with great potential Behind him are three promising sophomore hurlers, Ronald Bilitsky, Bruce Dalcanten and Pete Ventura.

Other Boys

Other boys who have looked good to Cornell are outfielders Richard Shinko and Walter Roman; infielders Anthony Aglio and Melvin Marutiak and a boy named Allan Cairns who will play anywhere.

Only five members of Cornell's 33 man squad are seniors. That means the future looks promising.

"We have some good boys and we could be tough this year, too," reports Cornell. "Our sophomore crop appears particularly good, but these boys need experience."

NBA Head Asks Boycott of La.

PATERSON, N.J. (UP)—Abe J. Greene, commissioner of the National Boxing Assn., has asked "every boxer in every other state in the country" to shun Louisiana because of a state law banning athletic contests between persons of different races.

Greene, speaking Tuesday night before a Paterson service club, made the remarks while the Louisiana Boxing Commission was considering whether a scheduled bout between Ralph Dupas of New Orleans and Vince Martinez of this city should be barred because of charges Dupas is "a gro.

Donora

Although Donora has just two regulars back from last year's club, the Dragons figure to be much stronger this season.

The returnees are Dave Russell, who does everything, and first baseman Mike Chuhran. Russell will start out as a catcher, but he can pitch and play any other position as well.

Three other letter winners are back, too. They are shortstop Angelo Dabiero, centerfielder Bill Sento, and pitcher-infielder Bing Alcott.

Others in the probable starting Donora lineup will be Jerry Amatangelo at second, Elroy Ramirez at third; Tom Ruscitti in right field, and Frank Romatino or Tim Matsick in left field.

Mound Candidates

The mound candidates include Tom Chatlak, John Trybursky, Jerry Herman, Butler Roddy and Chuck Guiffrida.

Guiffrida, just a ninth grader, is the boy who was generally regarded as the finest Little League pitcher around a couple of years back. He promises to develop into a truly outsanding star.

Donora coach Jay Giddick points out that his club lacks experience. However he concedes that the young Dragons might surprise some people if the pitching staff holds up.

Monongahela

Is this the year Monongahela's former Little League state champions will live up to their predicted greatness?

Coach Elmo Natali, a shrewd baseball man, certainly hopes so. The Little Leaguers have grown to seniors now and this will be their last chance to prove their stuff as schoolboys.

The past couple of years, the Wildcats have been disappointments, mostly because their pitching hasn't held up.

Ed Kikla, fireballing lefty who complained of a sore arm last season, appears to be in good shape again. Behind him are experienced hurlers Jack Evans and George Fabin.

When Evans isn't on the mound, he'll probably catch Otherwise Frank DeRosa will fill in.

Juggle Infield

Natali will probably juggle his infield a little. Fabin, a combination pitcher-catcher last year, will more than likely move to third this season. Rich Sacane will be back at shortstop, Fred Cox at second and Dee Galiffa at first.

All are seniors, who starred previously as Little Leaguers.

Butch Peters, a lusty hitter, is back to patrol the outfield, along with Kikla when the latter isn't pitching. Other outfield possibilities are Milton Diaz, Al Rotta and Jim Voelker.

As usual this Monongahela team looks great again on paper. If they can shake a "defeatist" complex which seems to have gripped them, the Cats could go all the way.

Monessen

MONESSEN

Monessen will start the season with a new coach — John Hayduk — and a new team as well.

Only Carl Crawley returns from last year's club. Crawley will probably start in the outfield, but he may be switched to catcher or first base if the need arises.

The Greyhound pitching chores will fall to Myron Septko, Dan Barton and Walter Jackson. Catching them will probably be John Kaminsky or Wendell Osborne.

At first base for the opener will be Tom Churan. If he doesn't work out Crawley is ready to trot in from the outfield.

Dick DiBiaso is the leading second base candidate with Charles Bill and Ken Diehl right behind. Sam Thorpe and James Baker are battling for the shortstop spot.

Lead at Third

James Baker seems to have the lead at third base but Carl Rattay and Mike Kerestes are pressing hard.

The outfield looks like Mike Kunsa, James Sepesky and Crawley. Also in the running are Ed Fayak and John McNavage.

The Greyhounds are exceptionally young and they lack experience. Hayduk will be able to call the season a success if he manages to win a couple of games.

The MHS pilot is obviously looking to the future.

Flamingos Win In DIC Bowling

Flamingos won a pair of games from the Robins and the Concords took two from the Peacocks in DIC Women's League bowling last night.

Scoring leaders were Alyce Standard, 100-290; Cleo Bronson, 105-295; Rosetta Payne, 97-238; Zadine Bronson, 121-291.

Standings show Concords, 14-14; Peacocks, 21-7; Robinson, 12-16; Flamingos, 15-13.

Experiment in Grid Drills at West Virginia

Three important personnel changes have marked West Virginia University's young spring football drills, and the main one concerns the extremely talented Chuck Howley who will be starring at his third position in as many seasons.

The prodigious Wheeling athlete will be taking over the right-guard position vacated by the graduation of All-Southern Conference star Gene Lathey. Last year mighty Chuck was a center; his sophomore season, the left guard who played middle guard on defense.

Joe Nicely moved into the middle guard position last year and became a star in his own right. This coming season Coach Art Lewis will count on veteran Tom Domen or sophomore ex-GIs J. D. Miller and Joe Wirth to fill the lately vacated Howley post.

In other position changes, reinstated junior Phil Messinger is being converted to an end from center and giant Dick Guesman, who understudied Nicely at middle guard as a sophomore, is moving over to tackle.

New Boys

New boys always occupy a major portion of the limelight, and the current spring practice is no exception. Coach Lewis couldn't hide a smile when George Stoffer, sophomore from Canton, O., who at 6-1 and 190 is built something like Bob Moss of 1954-55 fame, showed a little more ginger than usual.

Stoffer could certainly help relieve the coach's worries about halfbacks, because only one letterman, the smallish Ralph Anastasio, is on hand. Paul "Whitey" Mikanik, Anastasio's fellow Follansbee buddy, is back for one more try at a complete season, following injury, eligibility, military service, freshman and other problems. The other bright new prospect for halfback is Dave Rider from Big Creek of War sophomore, who had to sit out his freshman season due to one week's residence in the summer at another school.

Good-Looking End

Another lad who made Old Bushybrows lift 'em was Bruce McClung, junior end from Rupert who checked in at 6-4 and 205 This stellar engineering student could be ready to alleviate a long-time yearning of the coaches for an outsanding end.

A mighty welcome figure was that of Chuck Simpson when the junior quarterback from Charleston rejoined his teammates after a season's layoff His competing with veteran Mickey Trimarki, Dick Longfellow, sophs Jim Potts and Jack Thayer and Bob Connally might be just the ticket for the troublesome signal-calling job.

This spring's crop of sophomores-to-be looks fairly promising for about a dozen fellows in particular, though as always Coach Lewis will be hoping for a "find" like Freddy Wyant, Paul Bischoff, Joe Nicely or others who came out of nowhere to mean the difference between a victory or defeat.

Pirates Meet Athletics Today; Brooks Top Bucs

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Kansas City Athletics, who played 18 scoreless innings Monday, meet again today in an exhibition game here.

At Fort Myers Tuesday, the Brooklyn Dodgers broke a three-game losing streak and cut the Pittsburgh Pirates down to size with an 11-5 victory in the only spring meeting between the two clubs.

The Pirates' pitching, which had given up just one run in 38 innings prior to the meeting with Brooklyn, fell apart against the Dodgers. Southpaw Paul Minner was shelled for six runs on eight hits in the first three innings.

Ransom Jackson homered off Luis Arroyo and rookie Jim Roseboro hit a three-run homer off Dick Hall in the ninth inning.

Roger Craig worked the first five innings for Brooklyn. In the seventh, the Pirates hopped on Don Bessent for four runs, two of them doubled in by Bill Mazeroski.

Seek Money to Probe Boxing

HARRISBURG (UP)—The five state senators appointed by the 1955-56 Legislature to investigate professional boxing in Pennsylvania will ask for 20 thousand dollars to finance the inquiry.

Sen. Benjamin R Donolow (D-Philadelphia) told the chamber Tuesday the committee, appointed last May, refrained from opening the investigation during the 1956 elections to avoid being involved in "political issues".

Donolow said the committee members decided unanimously that 20 thousand dollars would be needed to conduct what he termed the "examination" of the sport

The other committee members are Republican Sens John T Van Sant (Lehigh); G. Robert Watkins (Delaware); Frank Kopriver (Allegheny); and Democratic Sen Anthony J. Disilvestro (Philadelphia).

Favors Keeping Dodgers in Brooklyn

NEW YORK (UP) —City Council President Abe Stark said Tuesday there "should be no question about keeping the Dodgers in Brooklyn even if an appeal had to be made to the National League to prevent any transfer to some other city."

Musial Gets Five Hits to Pace Cards to 9-2 Win over Redlegs

By TIM MORIARTY

Manager Fred Hutchinson of the St. Louis Cardinals isn't kidding when he claims Stan Musial "is like good whisky . . . he gets better the longer he's around."

Now 36 years old and approaching his 16th season with the Redbirds, Musial no longer has the "kick" of aged-in-the-wood giggle juice, but he still gives most pitchers a hangover.

The veteran outfielder had a perfect five-for-five day at bat Tuesday, stroking out four singles and a homer as the Cardinals downed the Cincinnati Redlegs, 9-2, to complete a sweep of their three-game spring series.

Nuxhall Racked Up

In the batfest against the Redlegs at Tampa, Fla., Musial helped the Cardinals rack up Joe Nuxhall, who gave up seven hits and three runs in the first three innings. Herm Wehmeier, meanwhile, blanked the Redlegs until the sixth when he was nicked for three hits and two runs.

At St. Petersburg, Fla., Enos Slaughter, another old-timer and a former Redbird, ignited a ninth-inning rally that enabled the New York Yankees to edge the Boston Red Sox, 1-0. The Yankees put together a single by Slaughter, a forceout, and back-to-back singles by Gil McDougald and rookie Tony Kubek for their only run.

Dodgers Blast Bucs

The Brooklyn Dodgers snapped a three-game losing streak by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-5 Rany Jackson and rookie John Roseboro homered for the Brooks, who shelled Paul Minner for six runs on eight hits in the first three innings.

Homers by Wes Covington and Joe Adcock helped the Braves down Atlanta, 8-5, Tuesday. Warren Spahn went the route for Milwaukee, although he was touched for 10 hits, including four homers.

Elsewhere around the spring training camps:

The Philadelphia Phillies registered their 10th victory in 11 games with American League teams by downing the Chicago White Sox, 4-2; the Washington Senators optioned outfielder Carlos Paula to Minneapolis before breaking camp at Orlando, Fla.; the Cleveland Indians rallied to down the New York Giants, 11-6, and Gene Baker's 12th inning homer earned the Chicago Cubs a 7-6 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Volts Sweep in Electric League

Volts blanked the Watts and Amps took a pair from the Ohms in Blooming Mill Electric League bowling last night.

Scoring leaders included Nick Tonini, 184-487; Mike Kizman, 202-470; Bob McKeever, 211-456; Joe Copozza, 190-455; Pete Urick, 171-447; and Phil Faraci, 185-444

Standings show Volts, 27-12. Ohms, 22-17; Amps, 19-20; and Watts, 10-29.

Vassar Sets New Scoring Record

Vassar rolled a record-breaking triple score of 1964 to sweep over Sweetbriar in Ladies League bowling last night.

Three other matches ended in clean sweeps. Ladycliff whitewashed Wellesley, Bryn Mawr broomed Monte Cassino and Mt. Mercy rolled over Rosemont.

Seton Hill took two games from Wheaton and Cedar Crest earned a pair from Villa Maria.

Top scorers were Rosemary Betz, 147-378; Tootsie Cieply, 144-417; Dorothy Frederick, 144-358; Helen Feldbake, 177-381; Kay Kurowsky, 157-388; Marie Columbus, 183-465; Sara Pascotti, 149-404; Shirley Matheson, 132-380, and:

Minnie Koltash, 154-417; Connie Magatz, 125-360; Carrie Palm, 165-408; Theresa Costa, 131-344; Rose Kossar, 136-353; Marge Opalinski, 159-444; and Louise Diethorne, 134-371.

Dackos, Koawl Win in Bowling

ROADMASTER 75

Custom Built by Buick

NOW ON DISPLAY

A NEW CONCEPT in motorcar excellence awaits your inspection in the ROADMASTER 75 just introduced.

You will see what we mean the first time you glimpse the interior.

The impeccable tailoring and taste of the rich appointments are as obvious as the comfort is opulent.

The seats, for example.

They are meticulously fashioned in glove-finished fabrics of broadcloth or Nylon, with backs topped in supple, hand-buffed leather. They are thickly layered with contoured foam rubber. They are wide, deep, superbly soft.

The doors present a new standard of luxury and restfulness—fully upholstered and softly cushioned from floor line to window.

The instrument panel, below the safety cushion, is chromed from end to end. The deep-pile carpeting is backed by foam. The integral armrests are fully in keeping with the spacious grace of the car.

The complete interior is matched by the mechanical excellence that is ROADMASTER tradition.

Indeed, nowhere else among the world's fine cars can you enjoy superb performance quite like that of a ROADMASTER 75—from the instant response of its brilliant new Dynaflow, to the smooth obedience of its all-new air-cooled aluminum front brakes — newest and the finest in the fine-car field.

Local People At State Officers Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Younkin, of Fell street, were in Uniontown on Sunday to attend a state executive committee meeting for members of World War I Veterans and the Ladies Auxiliary. Mr. Younkin is Department Deputy Chief of Staff and Mrs. Younkin is a trustee of the state auxiliary.

Also attending from this district were Ross Allen, of Charleroi, state quartermaster and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roth, of Charleroi. Mr. Roth is past commander of Valley Barracks 350 World War I Veterans and Mrs. Roth is president of the Valley Auxiliary.

State Veterans President Leslie Barnhart conducted the men's session in the Titlow Hotel and Mrs. Jennie Goughner, state auxiliary president, conducted the auxiliary session in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall.

After the individual meetings there was a combined meeting in which plans were made for the State Convention at Williamsport, July 19, 20 and 21.

A buffet supper was served with Mrs. Roth as chairman assisted by Mrs. Younkin, Mrs. Marge Harper

GUESTS AT TEA — Girls of Bellmar High School senior class gathered in the First Methodist Church, where they were entertained at tea yesterday afternoon by the Belle Vernon Woman's Club. A prelude of organ music was played for their entertainment as the guests assembled and a program and social time followed.

Bellmar Senior Girls Are Guests of Woman's Club

A prelude to graduation activities for the senior girls at Bellmar High School was the annual tea held by the Belle Vernon Woman's Club yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist Church with the students as honored guests.

Mrs. John Bunardzya entertained with organ music as the guests assembled and they were received by the club president, Miss Elizabeth Roley and the hostesses, Mrs. Robert Cook, Mrs. John Owens and Mrs. Jerome Boland.

Miss Roley extended the welcome to members and guests and the meeting opened with the group singing of "America the Beautiful" Mrs. Steve Ruby led in the pledge of allegiance and this was followed by a brief period of silence in memory of the late Mrs. John Mobley. Miss Roley offered a prayer.

Mrs. Mylo Culler introduced the guest soloist, Mrs. Kenneth Cotton, of Charleroi, who was accompanied by Mrs. Albert Plasman. Her selections were "Let My Song Fill Your Heart," "Early Robin" and "Lady Moon".

Presented as the guest speaker was Jacqueline Pancost, of Charleroi, a former resident of Belle Vernon. Miss Pancost is employed by Capital Air Lines and used for her subject, "Life of An Air Hostess". She told of her training and present duties as well as of places she has seen and people she met.

Miss Roley announced the Westmoreland County Federation spring meeting at Mountain View Hotel, Greensburg, on April 11. Reservations must be made by April 8 with Miss Roley, who will try to arrange transportation for anyone wishing it. An outstanding program has been arranged.

It was reported that Mrs. E. H. Cocain has been discharged from the hospital and is recuperating and that Mrs. J. C. Peth is a patient in West Penn Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Spring Luncheon

The next meeting was announced for May 14 and will be the annual Spring Luncheon at Century Inn. Also announced was the Monessen Woman's Club Spring Dessert Bridge, which will be held at Monongahela Valley Country Club on April 22, at 1 p. m.

A social hour followed and presiding at the tea table were Miss Roley and Mrs. W. C. Bierwirth, president-elect. Centering the table was an arrangement of yellow roses and tall yellow tapers and other appointments were in silver and white in keeping with the class colors.

The large social committee was headed by Mrs. R. J. Waite and Mrs. Harold Toner.

Mrs. Marion Gauden has returned home from Pensacola, Fla., where she accompanied her daughter, Mrs. John Melvin, the former Shirley Gauden. Mrs. Melvin joined her husband, who is stationed there with the U. S. Navy and they plan to reside there.

Religious Art Contest Set By American Legion Post

Belle Vernon American Legion Post 659 completed plans for the painting of religious scenes on the business establishments in North Belle Vernon at a meeting held last night at the Post Home.

The windows will be painted by art students from Bellmar and Rostraver High School the week of April 7 under the sponsorship of the Legion's Back to God movement. The window painting project inaugurated last year is conducted at this time in keeping with the Easter season.

Photographs of two of last year's paintings were submitted in a District Contest and one won a top award. Miss Pearl Kish, Bellmar art instructor will supervise the paintings of Bellmar students and the Rostraver students will paint independently.

Al Frank reported on Keystone Boys Camp and stated that civic and church groups of the area would be asked to assist in sending more boys to camp this year. Post 659 has sponsored two boys, one each from Bellmar and Rostraver High Schools the past two years and plans to continue the project this year. Additional boys could be sent by other groups.

Finance Officer Eugene Green presented the financial statement and Commander Andrew Luzanski reported that the post now has 583 members in good standing.

Al Frank reported on the Blood Bank activity.

New Members

Applications of three new members were approved including Frank Stancato, Steven Evans, both of Belle Vernon, Frank J. Kravec, of Monessen.

Albert Lutes was reported a patient in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital. The weekly awards were won by Eugene Green and Thaddeus Sobek, who was not present.

Refreshments were served and the next meeting was announced for April 15.

Confirmation Administered At BV Church

Approximately 225 young people and adults were confirmed at St. Sebastian R. C. Church on Monday evening by the Most Rev. Lamb, Bishop of the Greensburg Diocese.

The members of the class and their sponsors half filled the church and there was a large group of parents and friends in attendance.

Along with administering the sacrament of Holy Confirmation, Bishop Lamb spoke briefly to those who were confirmed.

The special sermon for the evening was delivered by the Rev Henry Hanse, pastor of St. Sebastian.

Re-registration Here

Commander Andrew Luzanski of Belle Vernon American Legion Post 659 has announced that there will be a complete re-registration for those now eligible in North Belle Vernon tomorrow afternoon from 1:30 til 2 o'clock at the Legion Home.

The American Cancer Fund Drive Set

The North Belle Vernon Crusade of the American Cancer Society will be conducted on Friday and Saturday of this week through a door to door canvass. The solicitation will be made by the Girl Scouts and volunteer workers.

The canvass is not being conducted only for donations, but to better educate the public in the facts concerning cancer.

This will be the first door to door collection made for the American Cancer Society in this area. The campaign is under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Bedsworth, chairman, with Mrs. Mary Whitelaw, co-chairman.

Anyone not contacted may send their donations to either of the chairmen.

Sodality Groups To Have Sessions

Meetings have been announced for the sodality groups of St. Sebastian R. C. Church. The Junior Sodality will meet on Thursday evening at 7:30 in the school. The Senior Sodality will meet next Sunday morning following the 9 a. m. mass.

Both Sodalities will receive Holy Communion at the 9 a. m. mass on Sunday morning.

Intermediate Scout Troop to Meet

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 6 will meet tomorrow afternoon in the Girl Scout Little House and the girls are asked to bring the material to work on their Easter projects since there will be no meeting no April 18.

Last week the troop met in the Little House with the leader, Mrs. William J. Myers and co-leader Betty Jo Costello, in charge. A horseshoe was formed for the opening ceremony and the girls sang "America". Color guards were Sandy Pupilli, Judy Amorosa and Janet Center. The commander was Linda Delia. Linda Toth was song leader and there was one guest present, Nancy White.

The time was spent in working on the Mother's Day project and then the girls formed the friendship circle for the closing ceremonies.

Garnet Glover, a student at Pennsylvania State University, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Glover, of Lynnwood.

Legion Auxiliary To Sponsor Party

Belle Vernon American Legion Ladies Auxiliary will sponsor another in the series of weekly card parties tomorrow evening in the Legion Home on Broad avenue.

It will be open to the public and Elma Wisyanski and her committee will be in charge. All proceeds will go to the Department President's project, aid for retarded children.

Ohio Man Killed In Auto Accident

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (UP)—George W. Brown Sr. Rayland RD2, Ohio, was injured fatally by an automobile Tuesday night as he was crossing State Route 7 near Rayland, about eight miles south of here.

He died in Ohio Valley Hospital here about two hours after the accident.

Ohio Highway Patrolman Dale Norris said Brown was hit by a car operated by Mrs. Theodora Scaffidi, 39, of Mingo Junction, Ohio.

Tamsters Union Is Silent on Break with Beck

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Teamsters Union high command today wrapped in secrecy the seriousness of its apparent break with Teamster President Dave Beck.

At the same time, the Internal Revenue Service was reported to have referred the results of its investigation of Beck to the Justice Department for possible prosecution. The department declined to comment.

Beck in taking the Fifth Amendment 117 times before the Senate Rackets Committee rather than discuss his financial activities said he had been warned he might be indicted on income tax charges.

Members of the Teamster Executive Committee refused to discuss what went on at a many hours-long secret meeting at which the committee is reported to have overwhelmingly rejected Beck's proposed 1 million dollar "truth" campaign.

The only public clue was issued late Tuesday by Beck in the form of a three paragraph statement.

It said the committee unanimously approved a "public relations program" to fight "anti-labor legislation." Sources said the committee voted to spend 150,000 to 200,000.

The campaign possibly was the union's answer to statements by a number of senators saying they would favor legislation to correct alleged abuses turned up by the Senate rackets investigation.

No mention was made of the campaign announced by Beck last week to tell the nation's 1,400,000 Teamsters and the public the "truth" about Senate charges that he took 322,000 in union cash for his own use.

Nor did it deny reports that the committee rejected the "truth" campaign with only Beck and his executive assistant, Vice President Einar Mohn voting in favor.

Frilly Equipped

CHICAGO (UP)—Charles Adams has fallen victim to the extra equipment on cars at the auto agency where he works. Adams rides to work on a bicycle equipped with a radio, three bells, rear view mirrors, speedometer, saddle bags, flags, fox tails, sun-visor, canopy with green fringe and a 150-pound buggy attachment.

SHINER WINNER — In spite of that black eye, Patricia Burke, 18-year-old high school senior, is winner of the "Miss Santa Barbara" contest for the "Miss California" contest in June. She got the shiner from a car door while on her way to the contest. Miss Burke weighs 130 pounds and measures 38-25 36, is 5-feet-8.

ENDS RUSS FUSS — 19-year-old actress Venitia Stevenson (above) won a divorce from actor Russ Tamblyn, 22, in Los Angeles on grounds he cursed her in front of guests and left her alone for long periods and refused to tell her where he was going when he left home. So ends a year of matrimony.

Many More Cases Are Studied In Pardons Board Probe Hearings

HARRISBURG (UP)—Rep. Edwin W. Tompkins (R-Cameron), chairman of the committee investigating the state Pardons Board, said today the committee will review several more cases this week before turning to the David Darcy case which sparked the inquiry.

The committee was slated to take up the list of four cases which Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (D-Northampton), a committee member, requested the group to hear before calling witnesses in the Darcy case.

Yosko wants a study made of the commutations granted Charles Peyton, Pittsburgh, convicted of murder in 1947; Frank Ciraolo, Altoona, convicted of robbery; John LaRocco, Pittsburgh, convicted of larceny in 1939; and Lester E. Gore, former Philadelphia zoning official convicted of perjury and pardoned by former Gov. John S. Fine.

The commutation of death sentences for David Darcy and two accomplices, convicted of slaying a bystander during the holdup of a Bucks County tavern in 1947, raised charges of political influence on the board last September.

The Republican-sponsored resolution setting up the investigation contended that "the opinion prevails in many quarters that political considerations influenced the Board of Pardons in this (Darcy) and in other recent cases."

Among those invited by the committee to testify when the committee turns to the Darcy case April 10 are: Matthew H. McCloskey, Jr., Philadelphia contractor and treasurer of the Democratic National Committee; Marion Ford, Darcy's aunt and a former secretary to McCloskey; Morton Witkin, former Philadelphia County commissioner; J. Dress Parnell, Harrisburg attorney; Alexander Suto, Pittsburgh; Judge Edward Biester, Bucks County district attorney at the time of Darcy's conviction, and Donald VanArtsdalen, present district attorney.

Clear Decks First

Tompkins said this week the committee will "clean up the cats and dogs matters" arising out of testimony already taken.

Attorney General Thomas D. McBride, a member of the present Pardons Board acting as its legal counsel, was expected to present cases from the board files designed to show that GOP political leaders had made personal appeals for clemency to the board under previous administrations.

Commonwealth Secretary James A. Finnegan will be given an opportunity to testify in reply to statements made by a previous witness. Charles F. G. Smith, a Philadelphia attorney, who said he had evidence of "political influence" on the board, but refused on grounds of professional immunity to reveal it.

In the Senate Tuesday night Sen. Israel Stiefel (D-Philadelphia) denied that he ever brought political pressure against the board to win favorable action for a client.

Stiefel was mentioned by Smith as one of the "politicians" he saw outside the Pardons Board hearing room while the board was in session.

Stiefel, an attorney, said he appeared before the board representing clients. He said he lost five out of six cases he presented to the board.

"Anyway," Stiefel said, "some people considered me, until now, as a statesman. During the recent campaign when I ran for reelection that charge was hurled at me. Now that I have been either demoted or promoted to the rank of politician I am very happy."

Sales Tax Collection Plan Is Studied

HARRISBURG (UP)—Republican legislative leaders today prepared to fill in a "skeleton" bill covering enforcement and collection procedures of the 3 per cent state sales tax as the deadline neared for final action by Gov George M Leader on the main legislation.

The GOP indicated a willingness to go along up to a point on changes to be put in a companion bill suggested by the Justice Department with a view to reducing the chances of the governor vetoing the key bill

Leader has until Thursday midnight to decide whether to sign, veto or let the main sales tax bill become law without his signature. If a compromise is reached on procedural changes, the revisions will be made in the new bill which will be passed as an amendment to the bill now in the governor's hands.

The governor cancelled his regular news conference Thursday His office said he would spend the day studying the bill on his desk and expected to reach a decision Thursday afternoon or evening.

The unique legislative maneuver was criticised sharply on the House floor by Rep. James E Lovett (D-Westmoreland)

"It's impossible to make any sense out of what we are doing," he said. "Everybody is confused."

House and Senate GOP leaders conferred several hours Tuesday night after receiving changes proposed by the Justice Department Just prior to the start of the conference Senate Majority Leader Rowland B Mahany said

"I don't believe we are going to have much trouble with a majority of the suggested changes. Most of them look alright to me although I want some time to study them"

The timetable calls for the Republican leaders to agree on the amendments and then inform the Justice Department of their action Then the amendments would be submitted to the General Assembly for inclusion in the "skeleton" bill which is already on the House work calendar.

The Republicans have served notice they will not change provisions which spell out new exemptions to the tax for shipbuilding, manufacturing and public utility interests. The main bill also calls for the 3 per cent rate on the sales tax to be permanent

Although legislation to cut the state gasoline tax by a cent on June 1 is also on the governor's desk, Senate Democrats indicated they are not yet ready to give up hope of retaining the six-cents per gallon tax.

Senate Minority Leader John H Dent (D-Westmoreland) introduced legislation which would keep the tax at six cents with the estimated 56 million dollars of revenue from the sixth cent to be used for additional subsidies to local governments, for repair of flood-damaged roads and for construction of roadside rest parks

Dent's proposal would apply 20 million dollars of the additional motor license fund money to local government road construction to raise the total reimbursement for this purpose to 72 million dollars.

The remainder would be used for flood repairs, roadside rests, reducing the state Highways Department debt service and for state owned and operated roads

But both branches of the Republican-controlled Legislature appeared determined to reduce government spending to a minimum In connection with this the Senate passed a House - approved bill which would put a limit on governmental spending in the last part of the biennial fiscal period

'If I'm Right, Correct Me'

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UP)—The past session of the Maryland General Assembly isn't likely to be remembered for much, but few who were there will forget this statement by Senator Louis N. Phipps:

"I may be wrong, but if I m right correct me."

The statement was made during a finance committee meeting.

Sunny Spell to End Tomorrow

By UNITED PRESS

Mostly sunny weather with somewhat cooler temperatures moved into Pennsylvania Wednesday with rain, and possibly some sleet or snow, forecast for late Thursday.

A northerly flow of cool and dry air moved across the state early Wednesday, bringing temperatures in the 20's and low 30's and clear

The sunny weather was expected to prevail in the central and eastern portions of the state while the western sectors could expect partly cloudy skies with a little less sunshine.

Temperatures Wednesday remained rather cool with highs in the upper 40's except around 50 in the southeast portion. Lows tonight will be in the 30's except upper 20's in the northern portions

A rain area now in the western states will move northeastward and enter Pennsylvania on Thursday. Some of the rain may be mixed with sleet or snow in north portions and higher elevations of the state. High temperatures will be in the upper 30's north portions to mid and upper 40's south portions

Typical Teacher Is 45, Married; Has 15 Years on Job

WASHINGTON (UP) — Thumbnail sketch of a typical school teacher:

She is 45 and married . . . Has home of her own and one child . . . Has been teaching 15 years . . . Plans to keep on teaching until she reaches retirement age . . .

Finds it hard to get by on salary of $3,932. . .But still thinks teaching is the greatest profession. If she had another chance to start a career, it would be teaching again.

This composite portrait of the American schoolmarm emerged from a year long survey conducted by the National Education Association's Research Division. It was the most comprehensive ever made of the professional, economic and social life of America's 1.1 million public school teachers.

Dr. William G. Carr, executive secretary of the NEA, told a news conference that the survey "makes it possible to replace a number of myths and stereotypes with facts."

While some of the findings were "about what we expected," he said, others "frankly surprised us."

The survey was based on lengthy questionnaires completed by 5,602 teachers who were chosen by a scientific sampling technique designed to obtain a representative cross-section.

Here are some highlights:

—Slightly more than one-fourth of all public school teachers are men. In the 25-36 age bracket, men actually outnumber women, but there is a tendency for men to leave at middle age for better-paying jobs.

—The typical male teacher is 35—10 years younger than the average woman teacher. He has less experience — eight years compared to 15, but his average salary, $4,374 a year, is higher. He is married and has one or two children. To support his family, he has to work at outside jobs, earning an average of $572 a year.

—Teachers of both sexes are much better educated than 25 years ago. More of them have M.A. degrees (24 per cent) than no college degree at all (22 per cent). Three out of four have a bachelor's degree or higher.

—The overcrowding of many public schools was reflected in the finding that the average elementary class has 31 pupils.

—Despite money problems, most teachers plan to stay in their chosen profession. Nearly 80 per cent said they "certainly" or "probably" will teach until they reach retirement age.

—The higher turnover rate which gave rise to the saying that "teaching is a procession, not a profession" has decreased. The average length of experience of teachers covered in the survey was 13 years.

At the end of the questionnaire was a space in which teachers were invited to "tell the world" how they felt about their profession.

Their comments varied enormously. Many included bitter complaints against low salaries and other conditions. But through most of them ran a common theme typified in the statement of one fourth - grade teacher:

"Teaching is the most consistently interesting, demanding and rewarding occupation I can imagine. It is a constant stimulus toward one's personal alertness and therefore to the richness of his life. As I look about me, there is no other job, no matter how much less tiring or better paying, for which I would exchange my present one."

Bankruptcies to Set New High, Congress Told

WASHINGTON (UP)—Congress was told today that bankruptcies have surged to a new peak this year that will surpass the record high set in the depression year of 1932. A Democratic congressman called the situation "alarming."

The revised forecast was made by Edwin L. Covey, chief of the federal courts' bankruptcy division, in testimony made public by a House Appropriations subcommittee.

Covey said his "present estimate" is that the number of bankruptcy cases filed during the 12 months ending next June 30 will reach a record high of 72,000.

That compares with 62,086 in the year ending last June 30. The present record of 70,049 was set in the year ending June 30, 1932.

Covey said he was still sticking "for the time being" to his months-old forecast that bankruptcy cases will not exceed 74,000 in the new fiscal year which starts July 1. But he agreed that forecast will have to be revised upward too if the present trend continues.

Weirton Steel Co. Head Is Honored

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Alumni Federation of Carnegie Institute of Technology will present its Alumni Merit Award today to Edwin O. Burgham, president of the Weirton (W.Va.) Steel Co.

Burgham, who was graduated from Carnegie Tech in 1909, will be cited for professional excellence at a dinner in his honor.

250 Homes Burn

NIIGATA, Japan (UP) — Brisk winds fanned a fire through 250 homes early today and left 1,500 persons homeless in the town of Bunsuimachi in Niigata Prefecture.

Eden Leaves Thursday for U.S.

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (UP)—Sir Anthony Eden lazed in the sun on the last day of his shortened New Zealand vacation today resting for his arduous trip to the United States.

The 59-year-old former prime minister will leave here Thursday (5:45 p.m. today EST) on the first leg of his flight to Boston for treatment of the intestinal ailment which forced his resignation Jan. 9.

Eden will fly aboard a New Zealand Air Force Sunderland flying boat specially provided by New Zealand Premier Sydney Holland.

In Boston, Eden will be examined by Dr. Richard Cattell, the American abdominal specialist who performed the 1953 operation.

Stops for Snooze

NAUGATUCK, Conn. (UP)—Police who investigated a mile-long line of honking automobiles found Samuel A. Perry, 32, in the first car. He had halted for a stop sign and fallen asleep.

BOSSISM

Political Maneuvering, such as we have witnessed by the recent rigged meeting of the City Democratic Committee in connection with the endorsement of the City slate which was selected by the Parente Machine is getting to be disgusting to the average intelligent voter.

As told by me, to this Committee on Friday night, March 29th, at this meeting in City Hall, they have no right to endorse any one candidate or slate of candidates inasmuch as they are elected by the people to represent all of us in the party and no particular faction within the party and therefore should remain neutral. The Primaries are designed for the purpose of having the voters and not the City Democratic Committee pick the candidates to represent the party in the General Election.

However, my pleas were in vain and the Committee endorsed the slate as selected by the Parente Machine. This was a cut and dried affair of which I was warned beforehand. However, I refused to believe that this committee would be a party to such a maneuver.

This meeting only proved that the political bossism as practiced by the Mayor for years is still very much in evidence. By this maneuver he feels that this slate bolsters his own chances and misleads the voters into believing that he is their automatic choice. You can't fool the people of Monessen all of the time!

I am determined to end for good, such interference and fancy misleading political maneuvering which deprives other candidates of a fair and equal opportunity in their aspirations to public office, by working hard to retire the Mayor from office.

Perfume 'All Over' Women Are Advised

By ALFRED LEECH

CHICAGO (UP)—Anne Rousseau a petite Parisienne, says American women would smell better if they perfumed themselves in the nude.

"At is zee great parfum secret", she said.

Miss Rousseau, 25, posessor of a French accent and a stunning figure in any language, came to town on a business trip to introduce her new scent, 'Tres Special."

"Most American women dab a leetle parfum under each ear and feel zat zey are, how you say, well dressed,' Mlle Rousseau said

'But zey are undressed, or maybe only half - dressed."

With Gallic gestures she asserted that the only way to apply the fragrance fatale is "partout" which means "all over."

And perfume should be sprayed on with an atomizer, she said, never dabbed on with the fingertips

The only time to apply perfume, said the sweet - smelling Mlle Rouseau, is after the bath when the pores are open And it must be applied "au naturel," she said

'Never should it be applied to zee hair or zee lingerie," said she

American women know less about perfume than the women of Italy Spain and Switzerland, she said, but they're way ahead of the English, German, Scandinavian and Yugoslavian females

She bases her opinion on a knowledge of European countries and their inhabitants acquired during the four years she was a foreign correspondent for "La Revue Francais."

Now she's an authority on aroma and owns her own shop. "Anne Paree," at 8 Rue Duphot in Paris, where she gives lessons, free advice and samples to all customers

Sometimes she said, a husband will come in with his wife's measurements, photograph and other pertinent data and ask for a perfume to match her personality.

"Tres difficult," she said. "But do it anyway"

Her new bouquet compounded of 300 fragrances from whale musk to lime leave, is designed for all shape and size females

Civil Defense Official Named

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Civil Defense Council today announced the appointment of Robert A. Bolich, Shenandoah, as civil defense specialist at a salary of $6,390 annually.

Civil Defense Director Richard Gerstell said the appointment is effective April 3 Bolich will serve as state project officer for the federal Civil Defense Administration's Survival Plan Project Program, a study of civil defense problems in major metropolitan areas.

Gerstell said once the field work of the project is underway, all salaries will be paid by the federal government.

Every biological species has proteins unique to it and differing in some way from proteins of all other species. A notable exception is the lens of the eye which contains the same protein in all species thus far studied

Pilot Found Dead in Plane On Mountainside

MILTON, Pa (UP) — Pilot John Zysk, of Erie, Pa., was found dead Tuesday in the wreckage of his plane which crashed on a rugged mountain top near here after he encountered heavy weather on a flight from Newark, N J., to his hometown.

Zysk has been missing since Monday night when he reported to the Selinsgrove Air Station that he was in difficulty while enroute home after flying three passengers from Jamestown, N Y. to Newark

State Police Cpl Earl Moore of Harrisburg sighted the wreckage of the Beechcraft Bonanza and the body of Zysk while piloting a Civil Aeronautics Administration search plane

A rescue party, which drove along an old trail to reach the scene six miles north of Laurelton State Village, found Zysk's body across the engine, where it had been thrown by the impact

His wrist watch was stopped at 8 13, one minute after he notified Selinsgrove he was in trouble. He said he was flying through heavy weather on instruments and asked permission to land at the Allentown-Bethlehem airport

Zysk's passengers on the Jamestown-Newark flight were John Ryan, Arlington, N J., Sauel Stever, Far Rockaway Beach, N. Y., and James Foster, Erie.

Fast Drinker

BRITTON, Mich (UP)—Ira I Earnhardt, 25, Milan, Mich., today was serving a two-day jail sentence for drinking and driving —at the same time Police said they arrested him for driving 80 miles an hour and drinking beer at the same time.

Refugee Center To Close Soon

CAMP KILMER, N J (UP) — Refugee Coordinator Tracy S Voorhees announced today that this reception center for thousands of Hungarians who fled Soviet oppression will close officially May 1

Voorhees, chairman of President Eisenhower's Committee on Hungarian Refugee Relief, said Hungarians applying for entrance to the U S would be processed in Austria

Voorhees said there was no longer an "emergency" need for processing refugees through this reception center.

The Pennsylvania Farm—

Top Young Farmers No Longer Amateurs

By UNITED PRESS

Winners of the 1957 Future Farmers of America "Keystone Farmer" awards at this year's farm show are amateurs in name only.

H C. Fetterolf, state FFA adviser in the Department of Public Instruction, said a review of the records of the winners showed they were "successful practicing farmers, even while they are classed as vocational agricultural students."

Fetterolf said the winners this year demonstrated top notch performances in agriculture And those picked for the highest degree an FFA member can earn on the state level had agricultural investments averaging $2,500 und labor income averaging more than $2 100

The FFA adviser said the 212 boys who won Keystone Farmer degrees had a total investment of $534 114 in agricultural equipment livestock, crops on hand and land and buildings Their combined earnings as labor income totaled $450,382 Fetterolf said

The winners raised crops valued at $412,434 on 4,436 acres, were engaged in livestock projects involving the raising of 756 dairy cattle, 259 beef animals and 2,810 swine in addition to poultry flocks totaling 134,626 birds since they enrolled as vocational students

"These records certainly prove that our Future Farmers are far from being novices in the agricultural arts. They actually are successful practicing farmers, even while they are classed as vocational agricultural students," Fetterolf said.

Mole Control

Stanley Gesell, Penn State extension entomologist, claims moles should be considered beneficial under most conditions because they destroy many injurious insects But when they start running their tunnels in lawns of cultivated ground it's time to get out the traps.

Although trapping is slow, Gesell said it's the most dependable method Poison baits aren't very successful and gassing is only partially effective since some runways extend quite a distance

Gesell said raised soil should be pressed down for five or six inches along the mole's runway and the specially designed trap should be placed so the trigger rests on the pressed-down area. When the mole comes along, he raises the soil and springs the trap.

'Refugees' Return To E. Germany

HAMBURG, Germany (UP)—Eighteen East German refugees put up a real squawk Tuesday when they were handed over to East German police after a three-month illegal visit to the West.

The "squawk" was as real as 18 geese could make it.

The birds floated 75 miles down the Elbe River on an ice floe last January in a 10-day voyage that took them from East German Mueggendorf Village to West German Hamburg City.

Doctors Debate—

Is Abortion Justified For the Mentally Ill?

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP)—By implication a psychiatrist has accused practitioners of two other sciences —sociology and genetics— of efforts to "deceive" his professional brethren into "exceeding their duties as physicians."

In one of the first, if not actually the first, clear-statements in a medical forum on a delicate question of ethics, Dr. James Arkle asserted that only rarely is the mental condition of a woman a sufficient ethical or legal justification for "terminating her pregnancy."

Psychiatrists, he said, must not be "deceived" by sociologists who urge that the obvious inability of a woman to care for a child properly after it is born justifies abortion—or by geneticists who urge that the chance of the baby inheriting the mother's mental disorder is also a good and sufficient reason.

Only One Justification

Ethically and legally, he said, there is only one justification for "therapeutic abortion." That reason is to preserve the life or the health of the woman when they are being "clearly threatened by her pregnancy."

He denied that mental illness—except, perhaps, in a relatively few cases—ever presented such a clear threat to a woman. To back up the statement, he analyzed 22 cases in which he was psychiatric consultant. One year after their pregnancies, the mental condition of three of the 22 women was improved. In only one woman was it worse, and in the remainder it was "unchanged."

One of the 22 was an 18-year-old schizophrenic. "The humanitarian motive for terminating pregnancy" in her case "was almost irresistible," he said, and "the possible eugenic justification for termination stood out in several cases, notably in the known psychotics and defectives."

"Be that as it may," he continued, "the lack of deterioration in the mental state of these patients as the result of their pregnancies does not give support as the result of their pregnancies does not give support to the recommendation of termination as a therapeutic measure in the mentally disturbed. This absence, or otherwise, of mental deterioration can be the only criterion in this matter."

Reported In Journal

Dr. Arkle is psychiatric consultant for the hospitals of Reading, England, and his forum was the technical journal of the British Medical Association. American and British physicians are bound by the same legal and ethical rules. Legally in both countries only a clear-cut threat to the health of the mother justifies abortion. Ethically all physicians in both countries are bound by the Hippocratic Oath which prohibits abortion.

He noted that in England there has been an increasing tendency to justify abortion on "psychiatric grounds," and this writer knows from familiarity with American psychiatric practice that that also is true here. It is a matter of disagreement among highly ethical men as to what "psychiatric grounds" would justify.

Dr. Arkle was attempting to narrow the range of disagreement.

Community to Welcome New Bank on Monday

The first goal in what the business men of Fayette City see as a real comeback for this small community will be reached by the official opening of a bank here next Monday morning. To mark the occasion they have made plans for a celebration to be held on Saturday afternoon.

From 10.30 a. m. until 9:00 p. m. the bank offices will be open for public inspection. The Gallatin National Bank with its main office in Uniontown, has reconditioned the building that housed the old Fayette City National Bank which closed its doors in 1927.

In the Annex to the Fayette City Community Center the local merchants will set up a buffet luncheon. The annex will open at 1.00 p. m. At 2.30 in the Center auditorium a former local man, Edward Hamer, who has served as the president of the parent bank and is still a member of the board of directors, will be presented by the president of the Fayette City Lion's Club. Richard Richardson, who is serving as master of ceremonies. Hamer will tell something of the history and workings of the bank.

At 3:00 p. m. Slim Bryant and his Wildcats, a well known radio act, will entertain.

An invitation to visit the bank and the center for Saturday's activities is being extended to not only the people of Fayette City but to the people of the surrounding area.

Lions to Meet

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Fayette City Lion's Club will be held Thursday evening at 6:30 in the dining room of the Methodist Church. Dinner will be served by the members of the Woman's Society for Christian Service.

Mrs. Colleen Daniel and two children, of Aliquippa, visited the past weekend with her aunt, Mrs. Martha Harris, and cousin, Mrs. George Moody, of Brownstown.

Good Friday Service Theme

"The Calls from the Cross" is the theme for this year's Good Friday three-hour service sponsored annually by the Fayette City Ministerial Association. The service will be held in the Methodist Church and will begin at noon. One of the seven last calls from the cross will be the topic of each of the participating ministers.

The week preceeding Easter will be observed by united services each evening from Monday through Wednesday. The Monday evening service will be at the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints; Tuesday, Presbyterian, Wednesday, the Church of Christ.

On Thursday evening each church will conduct its own service, with several observing the Communion. There will be no Saturday services. Easter will be commemorated in special services at all of the churches.

Scouts Honor Bride—Leader

Mrs. Clifford Carlson, Jr., the former Mary Ann Puskas, a recent bride, was honored by the members of Girl Scout troop of which she is the leader at their regular weekly meeting on Tuesday evening in the Scout rooms of the Legion Home. Mrs. Carlson was presented with a gift from the girls by her aide, Mary Ann Hamer.

In addition to honoring the bride of two weeks, the girls planned several future events including a skating party and a sleep-out. Definite dates were not set for these events, but they are being planned as April activities. The swimming party formerly set for April 12 has been canceled.

The executive board of the Ladies Guild and Christian Mothers of St. Edward's Catholic Church will hold an important business meeting on Friday evening in the church social room. The meeting in charge of Mrs. Ruth McGinsky will begin after the services of the Stations of the Cross.

Hit Secrecy in Public Records

By UNITED PRESS

A bill that would strip away secrecy from public records in state and local government groups has been introduced before the State Government Committee of the House of Representatives of the Pennsylvania General Assembly.

Championed by Pennsylvania newspapers, the measure, House Bill 800, provides that any official prohibiting or prevent public inspection of public records shall upon conviction be sentenced to pay a fine up to $100 maximum.

The proposed legislation is a companion to the "open meeting" bill, Senate Bill 224, backed by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association and unanimously passed by the Senate last month.

The "open record" measure would give any citizen of Pennsylvania the right to inspect all state, county, township municipal and school district records. Also any records of any commissions boards, or authorities created by the commonwealth or any political subdivision.

The bill was introduced by Joseph P. Ujobai, editor, Phoenixville Daily Republican, who is serving his first term in the House and is a member of the State Legislative Committee of PNPA; William K. Knecht, publisher, West Schuylkill Herald, Tower City, and Albert W. Johnson, Republican Majority Leader.

J. E. Holtzinger, PNPA president, announced, "The newspapers are champions of this legislation because they know from bitter day-by-day experience how government can go sour; how government too often becomes bad government when it surrounds itself with secrecy."

G. Richard Dew, PNPA general manager, observed, "The people's right to know what goes on in the handling of their affairs and the spending of their money is basic."

Who rates what for performance and smoother riding in the low-priced three? Chevrolet has laid the answer and the proof on the line!

First, Chevrolet won the Auto Decathlon, over every car in its field, and over the higher priced cars that were tested, too. This rugged ten-way test (right, below) showed Chevrolet was the champ in handling ease, braking, acceleration, passing ability, smoothness of ride and other driving qualities you want in a car.

Then, Chevy won the Pure Oil Performance Trophy at Daytona (left, below) as "best performing U. S. automobile."

It's quite a feeling to know that you are driving a car that performs so well, responds so beautifully and is so finely built. You feel proud, of course. But you also enjoy a surer, smoother, steadier way of going, a keen cat-quick response of power, and the easiest handling you've ever experienced behind a wheel. Just try this Chevrolet (V8 or Six) and see!

Officials of Legion Due In County

Three Monessen Legionnaires and four others from surrounding areas are serving on committees arranging a banquet and reception for the national and state commander of the American Legion next Monday.

Westmoreland County American Legion units will entertain the two men, W. C. Daniel, national commander, from Danville, Va., and Joseph Gavononis, state commander, from Mildred, in the Carol Leroy McKelvey Post 72 at Manor.

Jack Snyder, of Monessen Thomas McKee Post 28, is serving on the ticket committee and will be sergeant-at-arms for the affair. Jack Beck, another Post 28 member, is on the reception committee. Robert Crowley, of the Monessen Joseph H Ford Post 691, is on the ticket committee.

Area committeemen are Harold Toner, of Belle Vernon; E. W. Ricard, of Smithton; George Joseph, of West Newton, and Milan Franceski, of Belle Vernon.

All Legionnaires in the district are urged to attend Monday's affair.

Investigate Death Of Bridegroom in Ice Cream Truck

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—Detectives today investigated the death of Bradley Kincade McDonald, 24, a bridegroom of 17 days, who was found Tuesday evening in the freezer compartment of his ice cream delivery truck.

Police ordered an investigation after Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, said a preliminary examination showed death was apparently caused by suffocation. The coroner ordered an autopsy.

McDonald, married in Akron March 16 to the former Miss Shirley Corley, Akron, was last seen alive Tuesday morning.

Harry Wolman, owner of the Oak St. Pharmacy, one of McDonald's stops, told police he found the truck parked nearby and forced open the door of the freezer. He said he first noticed the truck parked more than four hours earlier.

McDonald was found on the compartment floor, his head resting against the wall. The temperature inside was 20 degrees below zero.

The door was unlocked and there was an emergency release inside. Efforts to revive McDonald failed.

Firms Combine On Fuel Project

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Mine Safety Appliance Co. and Gulf Oil Corp. announced today a joint program for research and production of high energy fuels for jet aircraft and missiles.

The project will be conducted by Callery Chemical Co., Callery, Pa., Butler County which recently broke ground at Muskogee, Okla., for a 38 million high energy fuel plant under contract with the Navy.

The plant, which is part of the Navy's top secret "project zip," will produce a type of fuel known as "hical," a mixture of boron, hydrogen and carbon.

The fuel can be used efficiently at altitudes where conventional fuels will not burn, it was explained.

Plan to Abolish County School Districts Loses

HARRISBURG (UP) — A proposed new school administration system which would replace county districts with 47 "intermediate school service areas" appeared today to have little chance of legislative approval this year.

The legislation to establish the new school system for Pennsylvania, was introduced in the state Senate Tuesday by Sens. Frank W. Ruth (D-Berks) and John T. Van Sant (R-Lehigh).

But Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill), chairman of the Senate Education Committee to which the bill was referred, said the lawmakers seem to feel that "this is not the time" to pass on such legislation.

"We have already passed so many new laws, in this session and the last," said Wagner, "that the people still haven't had a chance to catch up, to find out all we've done. We feel this is a time to consolidate our gains, to take stock before going any further."

Senate Majority Whip Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Arstrong) seconded Wagner's sentiment. Asked about possible Republican support for the bill, he said: "Not this session."

Under the proposed reorganization, a regional school service area, under the supervision of a regional school board cutting across county lines, would be established.

The state Council of Education which drafted the plan in cooperation with the state Public Instruction Department, said the major objective was to assure in every area of the state the type of service and facilities now generally available only in the larger school districts.

Local school boards would not be eliminated and proponents of the plan say its adoption would not curtail the authority of local boards.

Family Background Often to Blame for Alcoholic's 'Disease'

NEW YORK (UP) — On the basis of the family backgrounds of 109 far-gone alcoholics, the typical victim of the "disease" is (1) a member of a large family who (2) had "an insecure and unloving relationship with one or both parents," with (3) "a considerable likelihood of having experienced the loss of one of them by death or other causes during childhood."

Dr. C. W. Wahl, assistant professor of psychiatry, University of California Medical Center, Los Angeles, who made the family background studies, previously had studied family backgrounds of 392 victims of schizophrenia. They had, he reported, "an equally large incidence of pathological parental attitudes, parental loss, and large family membership."

His assumption was that somewhere early in the game "symptom choice" had been available to both groups, that is, one chose (unconsciously or largely unconsciously, of course) alcoholism as the manifestation of a deep-seated psychological illness, while the other chose schizophrenia. He found "some insight" into the process by further comparisons of the family backgrounds of the two groups.

"Among the parents, particularly among the mothers, of the schizophrenic patients, there was evidence of vascillation in their rejecting attitudes," he reported to Yale University's "Studies On Alcohol." The child would be jockeyed back and forth for no objective reason between a rejecting parental withdrawal and attempts to be loving and outgoing."

Look Within Himself

This, he suggested, "would prompt the child to look within himself for the reasons for his supposed unacceptibility and one would expect such an experience greatly to magnify his convictions of guilt." Parents of the alcoholics were just as rejecting, but they were less inconsistent about it, and "this seems to result in the subsequent development of intense feelings of anxiety, hostility and unworthiness but with guilt much less prominently featured."

He commented that his studies did not "support" the widely held idea "that there are decided advantages in growing up as a member of a large family (which is) purported to fit one more adequately for mature adult life, presumably by fostering co-operative and unselfish behavior and in giving greater opportunity for integrating personal strivings and needs with those of others."

Contrarily, he added, his studies "strongly suggest that there may be specific stresses attendant upon large family membership. Among these may be an increased difficulty in identification with parents who, in a large family, presumably have less time to spend with the individual child, an intensified sibling rivalry for the limited parental affection and interest, greater economic privation, and increased intra-psychic anxiety, hostility, and resultant guilt which the intra - familial competitive striving engenders."

Liner Queen Mary Still Exiled from Britain Home Port

LONDON (UP)— The giant luxury liner Queen Mary was an exile from its home port today despite the decision by Britain's dockworkers to call off their nationwide strike.

Union leaders at Southampton blacklisted the 81,237-ton liner, the world's second largest, because it left port with the aid of Royal Navy tugs last week when regular tug crews refused to handle it during the strike.

The queen put into Cherbourg, France, on its return from New York Monday after the dock unions warned they would not unload it at Southampton, the port from which it has sailed to the United States for more than 20 years.

A smaller Cunard liner, the Ivernia, ferried 1,100 passengers from Cherbourg to Plymouth Tuesday. They arrived just in time to learn the strike had ended.

Shift Control Of State Jobs

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Republican - controlled General Assembly has approved legislation to shift control of the state Finance and Revenue Board from the Democratic administration to GOP office holders.

The House Tuesday night passed 116-74, and sent the Senate bill to Gov. George M. Leader. The Democratic minority objected to the legislation as a "ripper," warning they would advise Leader to use his veto.

The bill would allow the state treasurer, a Republican, to make appointments of employes on the board. The existing law states the appointment power rests with the majority of the board members. The Democrats now control the board with a three-to-two membership advantage.

Duquesne Receives State Allocation

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Commerce Department today allocated $453,326 for the Allegheny County Redevelopment Authority for a slum clearance project in Duquesne.

The 32-acre area to be redeveloped will be used for commercial purposes and for public housing. The state allocation is made from a 5-million dollar appropriation approved by the 1955 Legislature for redevelopment purposes.

Our Boys in the Service

Crew Rated High

A crew commanded by a Monessen man has been rated one of the steadiest in the 26th Strategic Reconaissance Wing at Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus O.

Capt. John W. Burkhart and co-pilot 1st. Lt. Thomas Manning, and observer, 1st Lt. Jerry Jamison, make up the crew which has been judged the best all-around crew in the Wing for the past two flying quarters.

The crew, which was formed in 1955, has consistenly been among the 26th Wing's top combat teams.

Captain Burkhart is the son of Mrs. Martha Burkhart, of Reeves avenue, Monessen. He graduated from Monessen High School in 1940. He is stationed at Columbus, where he is living with his wife and two children.

Captain Burkhart started his flying career in February, 1943 and was assigned to a Fourth Air Force unit. In 1947 and 1948 he was on duty in Japan with the 431st Fighter Squadron. In 1948 he reverted to civilian life and in 1951 was recalled to duty and assigned to a Strategic Air Command B 29 outfit.

He flew 27 combat missions over Korea with the 307th Bomb Wing and later stationed with the 26th Wings' 10th Reconnainsce Squadron.

Much of the crew's credit goes to the crew chief, S-Sgt. George Ballard, Captain Burkaart said.

Herman Alvarez

Governors Condemn Speeding on Highways

By UNITED PRESS

The nation's governors backed the National Safety Council today and condemned highway speeding — even by a president.

A United Press survey failed to turn up a single statehouse chief who condoned speeding by public officials. Only three admitted ever having been stopped and none of the three was a flagrant violator.

President Eisenhower drew critical comment this past weekend when press cars following him to Gettysburg, Pa., were stopped for speeding. Newsmen said the President's car, which was not detained, sped ahead at about 70 m.p.h.

The following day National Safety Council President Ned H. Dearborn said he thought "no public official should be immune from speed laws."

Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement admitted he sped a bit in California during the 1956 national campaign, but said he slowed down in his home state "because somebody might see me speeding and I might lose a vote."

It was generally conceded, however, that concern for safety rather than politics held governors' speeds to legal limits.

"Excessive speed is the number one killer on our highways and streets," Texas Gov. Price Daniel said. "Speed limits are set for everyone. There should be no exceptions for public officials. We should set the right example."

Pennsylvania Gov. George M. Leader said he "agreed" with the safety council's stand.

"I practice it myself," Leader said.

Others who made special mention of their agreement with the safety council were Idaho Gov. Robert E. Sylie, Georgia Gov. Marvin Griffin, Arizona Gov. Ernest McFarland and Alabama Gov. James Folsom.

The three governors who admitted being stopped for speeding were Michigan Gov. Mennen Williams, Washington Gov. Warren Magnusen and Smylie.

Kentucky Gov. A. B. Chandler is a firm anti-speed advocate.

"Chandler never allows us to go over the speed limit," a Kentucky state trooper said. "He is afraid of high speeds."

Panama Canal Sets New Record

PANAMA (UP)— The Panama Canal handled more ships last month than any month in its 42-year history.

The Panama Canal Co. released figures showing 981 vessels used the waterway in March, 123 more than the previous record of 858 set last December.

Chile President Orders Shooting to Stop Rioting

SANTIAGO, Chile (UP)—President Carlos Ibanez ordered security forces today to shoot if necessary to stop rioting and looting which started as a protest against a bus and trolley fare increase.

Six persons had been killed and 158 injured when the President broadcast the order over the state-owned radio network early this morning.

He also threatened to shut down newspapers and radio stations inflaming the mobs, but there was no censoring of outgoing cables.

The government agreed to suspend the 50 per cent fare hike temporarily in an effort to calm the protest. Political leaders said Ibanez also agreed to free all those arrested during the riots.

Some 250,000 high school and university students agreed, as a result, to end the 48-hour strike they started Tuesday and return to classes this morning.

Police and soldiers clashed throughout Tuesday with mobs armed with stones and clubs that roamed the city robbing stores, stoning newspaper buildings and the National Congress and attempting to set fire to the Cathedral.

Police stopped one group from attacking the presidential palace.

Ambulances set up shuttle services delivering the dead and wounded to hospitals.

Burglar Says Victims Lied About Losses

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—A 39-year-old truck driver, who confessed burglarizing 21 stores in seven months to get food for his five children, denounced his victims Tuesday for exaggerating their losses.

"It surprised me to read in the papers how people magnified what I took," Johnny (Babe) Ray said. "One woman reported she had been robbed of $140 and I only got $37 there."

Ray confessed to police that he started stealing seven months ago "to buy food and milk for my kids." He said at first he only took food, but later stole money and merchandise, including a television set.

Police said Ray has five children, ranging in age from three weeks to six years.

There are least two eclipses of the sun every year. These occur when the shadow of the moon falls on the earth. The phenomenon may occur five times in a single year.

Fusion Holds Key to Man's Search for Endless Power

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UP) —Scientists are striving to build invisible walls mighty enough to hold an artificial star twice as hot as the sun.

If they succeed, man's constantly growing demand for power will —for all practical purposes — be forever appeased.

That briefly, is the story of Project Sherwood, the Atomic Energy Commission's multimillion-dollar research quest for a way to harness the H-bomb's fusion reactions for peacetime power.

As AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss told reporters at a news conference Monday, "Power from fission (the A-bomb-reaction) is here today—a constantly expanding reality. Power from fusion is a hope of the future — the somewhat distant future."

Notes Progress

But "encouraging progress is being made and certain discoveries are narrowing our approach to the major scientific problems involved" in controlling hydrogen power and making it a servant of peace.

The sun and stars continually manufacture power from fusion in amounts too enormous for the average mind to grasp. Strauss said he is "more confident than ever."

In man's case, the container for a fusion power reactor cannot be of any material substance. At the temperatures involved, a material container would flash instantly and violently into vapor.

So, lacking the gravitational forces which hold superheated gases together at the sun's center, man must fashion a container of another kind.

As an approach to doing that, scientists have thought up the "stellarator," otherwise known as a "magnetic bottle." It is a device for holding hot electrified gases together in non-material walls of sheer magnetic force.

Fusion Controllable

The trick is to bunch such gases long enough — for several millionths of a second, at least — for them to fuse and liberate power in the form of electrical current.

The sun's fuel is ordinary hydrogen. It fuses hydrogen nuclei to make helium and energy. Its gravitational forces are powerful enough to hold the reacting nuclei together even at temperatures of 50 million degrees fahrenheit.

Though man has a better fuel in the heavy hydrogen inexhaustibly available in the seas, he has to resort to higher temperatures, 100 million degrees or more. And he cannot invoke the forces of gravitation which serve the sun and stars.

Nobody knows exactly what a hydrogen power plant will look like, but Strauss is certain it will be immense by present power plant standards and will cost "scores of million of dollars."

But, said Strauss, "We are making progress." He quoted a scientist as saying:

"Anyone who thinks fusion cannot be controlled is a fool, but anyone who thinks it is going to be easy is an idiot."

Army Holds Port Au Prince Head In Political Crisis

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UP) —The Army held Franck Sylvain under guard today and opened an investigation into the cause of a general strike that brought about his downfall as provisional president.

Army chief Leon Cantave announced Sylvain's resignation Tuesday night and said he would conduct an intensive inquiry into the political crisis that generated the countrywide walkout.

During the two-day strike, which paralyzed all business and industry, 10 persons were injured and more than 200 arrested.

Six presidential candidates called the strike Monday when Sylvain turned down their demand for a complete reorganization of his cabinet to give their parties adequate representation.

Mother of Six Shoots Husband In Family Row

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (UP)—A mother of six children shot and critically wounded her husband in their home at Brilliant, five miles south of here, Tuesday night.

The wounded man, James Tate, 43, underwent surgery at Ohio Valley Hospital here. He was shot in the abdomen with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Jefferson County Sheriff Clarence Eberts said Tate's wife, Dessie, 37, was being held in the county jail here pending an investigation. No charge was filed.

Eberts said Virgil Minor, brother of Mrs. Tate, told him Tate came home and threatened to "wipe out the whole family." Minor said Tate had been drinking.

According to Minor, Tate started looking for a revolver which his wife had hidden. Mrs. Tate then got the shotgun and shot her husband, the brother said.

Coke Company Reports Earnings

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Pittsburgh Coke & Chemical Company today reported 1956 net earnings of $3,921,000, about 30 per cent above the preceding year.

Sales were $59,678,000, compared with $56,572,000 in 1955.

Henry L. Hillman, company president, predicted further gains this year over 1956.

Old Machinery Put to Test

FULTON, Mo. (UP) — A collection of antique farm machinery, powered by steam engines, snorted to life not long ago, in an old-fashioned threshing bee.

The outmoded steam engines belong to Ed M. Peacock, who has scouted the countryside for 10 years looking for relics for his collection.

Old-timers and youngsters alike flocked to see his collection of 12 engines, many still in top-notch operating condition, and to watch engineers put the machines through their paces.

For two days the machines clattered over Peacock's farm near here. In one demonstration, the engineers had to steer their machines onto a teeter-totter constructed of wooden beams, the object being to test the ability of the drivers to balance the engines.

Another contest required the engineers to drive the machines over a small pyramid of wooden blocks. In still another test, horsepower was measured by connecting a belt between the engine and a Prony break.

Largest of Peacock's engines is a Reeves compound steam engine. Built in the 1890's, it's one of two such in the nation still in operating condition.

Other museum-type pieces on display were an old-time five-bottom plow, a corn-cutter and seeding machines.

Peacock spends much time now rummaging through barn lots in search of discarded machines and repairing broken parts to put them in working condition.

The real satisfaction comes, he said, when the indicator on the steam pressure gauge begins to move and the smoke starts to billow out of the once-rusty engine.

2 Card of Thanks

BATTISTONE — We wish to thank the many thoughtful friends and neighbors who extended us kindness in our recent bereavement, the death of Bernadette Marie Battistone. The ministrations of the Rev. Nunzio Pirulli, masses, floral tributes, expressions of sympathy, spiritual comfort, cars loaned for the funeral, and the aid of the pall bearers; as well as all those who assisted at the funeral will be remembered with gratitude.

Mr. and Mrs. John Battistone and Sons

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, William Melanowski, who died 1 year ago today, April 3, 1956.

We lost a Dad with a heart of gold
Who is more to us than wealth untold
Without farewell he fell asleep
With only memories for us to keep
We have lost but God has gained
One of the best fathers the world contained.
Sadly missed by Wife, Children and Grandchildren

Party Held at Budd Residence For Son, Teddy

A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Budd, of Sweeney plan, for their 15-year-old son, Teddy.

Games were played, and lunch was served by his mother assisted by Gertrude Mognet and Esther Budd.

Others present were Lois Winchell, Judy George, Carol Mognet, Bonnie Allen, Judy Martak, Darlene Morella, Carol Nusser, Carol Baron, Judy Bahalski, Beverly Douglas, Barbara Maras, Diana Cunningham, Barbara Byers, Buddy Hamilton, Charles Ahlborne, Bill Rosnic, Richard Olson, Tommy Sollars, Bill Kuhn, Larry Anderson, Bill Kioski, George and Tommy Budd, Alan Crossland, Joe Ciserno, Jim Mognet and Charles Keefer.

Cancer Society Canvass to Start This Weekend

The Rostraver Township campaign for the American Cancer Society will be held in the township Friday and Saturday, it was announced jointly today by Mrs. Barbara Bedsworth, chairman, and Mrs. Mary Whitelaw, co-chairman.

Volunteer workers and Girl Scouts will conduct the door-to-door canvass. Besides soliciting for funds, the workers will advance facts about cancer.

Residents are asked to be cooperative and generous when workers appear at their homes.

School Children In Campaign for Needy Persons

Beginning Monday, Rostraver Township school children will collect clothing at the schools during World Clothing Week. The drive will continue through Friday of next week.

The collection of clothing and shoes is to be turned over to needy persons in this country and abroad.

Students have been given literature which they have been asked to give to parents and friends.

Class of 1952 Plans Reunion

The Rotraver High School Class of 1952 will hold a meeting Saturday at 7 p. m. at the home of Dolores Howenstine to plan for a class reunion.

All members of the class are asked to attend. Anyone who has not yet received literature concerning the reunion is asked to contact Mrs. Howenstine by calling Donora 4994-J3, or Mrs. William Kovalik (Mary Ellen Bliner) at Donora 1918-M.

Community Service Held in Webster

The Webster Community Service was held Sunday at the Methodist Church with the Rev. Ben Saint as speaker. His topic was "Salvation". He also sang "If You Knew the Lord".

The Community Choir sang "Seeking the Least" with Dora Richey and Odessa Smith assisting. The Rev. George Guest closed with prayer.

Next Sunday's meeting will be held at the Presbyterian Church with Joe Marasko as speaker

Registration for Food Tomorrow

Re-registration for surplus food for Rostraver Township will be held tomorrow as follows: Pricedale, 9:30 to 11 a. m.; Webster, 1:30 to 2 p. m., and Fellsburg, 2 to 2:30 p. m.

All persons must re-register to be eligible for April distribution.

Mrs Joseph Corbett, of Elks place, and her mother, Mrs Laura Frew, of Monessen, are spending two weeks in Miami, Florida.

Mr and Mrs Charles Ellis, of Detroit, Mich, visited over the weekend with O Ellis, of R D, Bele Vernon.

Lenten services will be held tonight at 7:30 in Webster Methodist Church.

Mr and Mrs James Swink, of Grindstone, visited over the weekend with Mrs Flora Foulk and family.

The Rostraver Youth Choir will meet for practice tomorrow evening at 7:45 in the Methodist Church. All members are urged to attend to start rehearsing for a rally to be held May 5

Says State Car Buying Plan Is 'Fat in Budget'

HARRISBURG (UP)—The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee said today the $6,455,848 appropriation requested for new state cars and trucks "is an item of fat in the budget which can be cut."

Rep. Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) said that budget hearings have failed to produce evidence that the administration is saving "any substantial sums" through its recently-installed buy-and-sell plan for state cars. He said the administration has insisted the program will save two million dollars every two years, once the program is fully in effect.

"The truth of the matter is that unless used car prices stay high and new car prices go down, there is no possible way in which big savings predicted by Governor Leader and his office of administration can ever be realized," Wood said.

Flying Saucer

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (UP) —Mrs. Mary Hunter, 58, had a tense moment Tuesday when what looked like a flying saucer sailed through the air and struck her car. The saucer turned out to be a rear wheel that had slipped off a tractor-trailer.

No More Live TV for Mel Ferrer and Wife

By ALINE MOSY

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Mel Ferrer a Svengali? The handsome actor insists he and wife Audrey Hepburn lead such separate careers that it may be a long time—if ever—before they work together again.

Movietown gossip that the actor-director rules his pixie-faced wife with an iron hand brought a chuckle to Ferrer as he visited here before flying off to Mexico for a movie location.

"I'm flattered if people think I'm responsible for her success—because Audrey is doing great," he laughed.

"We agreed when we married that each of us would make separate decisions. When I get a script I decide whether I want to do it before I show it to her, and vice versa. Audrey is a person who knows her own mind."

Well Cast In Stories

Since their marriage the Ferrers have appeared together in "War and Peace" and on television in "Mayerling," two stories in which he thinks they were well cast. They have no plans to act together again "because we don't want people to think we will work only that way, that she will accept a script if I get a part in it, and vice versa. That's not good for her or me."

If the Ferrers co-star again, it probably won't be on live TV. They were plagued on "Mayerling" by everything from broken zippers to bottomless bottles.

"Live TV is a silly waste of time and money," declared Ferrer. "That show cost $650,000. We're in no hurry to do live TV again.

"In one scene my gun jammed when I was shooting at a mirror and I had to throw the gun at the mirror. Another time I was supposed to drink from a bottle and the bottom fell out. No liquid! I had to pick up another bottle and try to hide the hole in the other one.

No Chair!

"In another scene I was supposed to sink into a chair — and no chair! The camera was on me for a close-up so I was able to signal to the camera operator to move away."

Audrey almost appeared in "Mayerling" minus her dress when a wardrobe woman broke the zipper on her ball gown during one of the hectic 10-second changes. The bodice had to be held together with three big safety pins. She played another scene with her arm stuck in the sleeve of a jacket.

"It's hard to get a performance when your main preoccupation was mechanical — I'm sure my performance showed it," he sighed.

The show did draw mixed reviews, but the Ferrers received a flood of fan mail from happy viewers, he added.

Society Asks Halt Of Chicks & Fowls As Easter Novelties

CHICAGO (UP) — The Anti-Cruelty Society today urged parents and merchants to stop using live chicks and other baby fowl as Easter novelties.

J. J. Shaffer, managing director of the society, said few people know how to care for the chicks. He said children often "rough-handle" them until they either die or are sent back to farms and shelters.

Shaffer said the society's campaign last year brought good results. He said fewer chicks, ducklings and bunnies were used as novelties than any previous year, but it was hoped the number would be even smaller this year.

Your Health—

Three Different Types Of Myopia Possible

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

While we generally say a person is nearsighted and let it go at that, there actually are three broad varieties of myopia, of nearsightedness.

The ordinary, or most frequent type, attacks eyes that are otherwise normal. Generally, this type of visual difficulty occurs in children between the ages of eight and 16 who are very fond of reading. We suspect that heredity has something to do with it.

A more dangerous type of nearsightedness is termed progressive myopia. Almost always this type strikes a sickly child, whether he likes to read or not.

Its advance is rapid and is accompanied by a destructive process which might terminate in blindness. Fortunately, few persons suffer from it.

The third type begins with middle age. While many victims seem to be in perfect health, it usually season attacks those with poor general health or unhealthy eyes.

Sometimes, we believe, it results from certain blood disorders.

Nearsightedness occurs in some persons because their eyeballs are too long from front to back. In such cases the light rays from objects any distance away come to a focus in front of the retinas. This results in blurred images.

Other victims have similar focusing difficulties because the lenses of their eyes bend the light rays too sharply.

No matter what the cause of the trouble, all victims of myopia require glasses which will bend the light rays so that they focus on the retinas and produce clear, sharp images.

Let me emphasize that only a vision specialist should prescribe glasses. If you need glasses, you need the advice of an expert to obtain the best vision possible.

One pair of horseflies and their progeny if all survived, could produce 191 quintillion flies in a
